

HUNDREDS MADE HAPPY.

Taxed to the utmost for four full days our entire sales force last Saturday night was just about ready to drop; but each wore a happy smile conscious of the part he was playing in making you the happy possessors of many things which, under ordinary conditions, you would not feel you could afford, or in providing you with the really necessary things which you had decided just at present you would have to get along without. It is our loss to be sure, but it's your gain and we're satisfied with that.

A Genuine Carnival of Bargains

the greatest we have ever known of. One young man told us Saturday that he could furnish his new home better here than he could anywhere else, and at a real saving of more than one hundred and fifty dollars, and he had the figures of three other concerns to prove his statement. Showing to you the tremendous saving that runs through every department of this great store.

To quote here prices on individual pieces conveys no clear idea to you that the price quoted on is one you would care for at any price; but just remember that not a piece of any description has escaped the knife, and that whatever you want is now priced at from 20 to 40 per cent less than it ought to be as an inducement to you to take our goods for a little of your money.

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED IN CITY OF SARAYEVO.

Throwing of Bomb Signal for Anti-Servian Outbreak.

Semi-Official Report of Shooting of Archduke Francis Ferdinand.

SARAYEVO, Bosnia, June 29.—Martial law was proclaimed today in both the city and the district of Sarajevo, in consequence of the assassination here yesterday of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and the Duchess of Hohenberg.

A bomb thrown by a youth standing on the main street of the city was the signal this morning for a serious anti-Servian outbreak, which the troops found considerable difficulty in quelling. The only damage done by the bomb was a slight injury to a passing Mussulman, but the rougher element seized on the incident as an excuse to start a demonstration. They were joined by a number of Croatian students and the crowd passed along the street, stoning the windows of Servian shops, clubs, schools and houses and looting the interiors.

The manifestants paraded the streets with a portrait of Emperor Francis Joseph at their head. They sang the Austrian national anthem and attacked everything Servian until they were confronted by an overwhelming force of soldiers.

Martial law was proclaimed by beat of drum and the posting of placards. All the chief points of the city were immediately occupied by troops.

Death masks were taken of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and the Duchess of Hohenberg, who were assassinated yesterday by Gavrilo Princip, while on an official visit to the Bosnian capital. The bodies of the two victims were then embalmed and placed on a catafalque in the chapel of the palace, where they were today surrounded by a magnificent display of wreaths and other floral emblems from all parts of the country.

According to the semi-official report of the tragedy, at the time the fatal shots were fired, Field Marshal Oskar Potiorek, governor of Bosnia, was seated in the archduke's motor car. Francis Von Harrach was standing on the footboard of the car, acting as a shield to the occupants, of whom he had instituted himself the special bodyguard after the bomb had been thrown a short time before by Nedeljko Gabrinovic, the archduke was joking with the count about his precautions when the reports of several shots rang out. The aim of the assassin was so true that each of the bullets inflicted a mortal wound.

For an instant after the attack Field Marshal Potiorek thought the archduke and the duchess, seated opposite him, had again escaped. Neither the archduke nor the duchess uttered a sound, but a moment afterward the blood spouted in great gushes from the victims' mouths and threats and it was seen that they had been mortally wounded.

Lieutenant Colonel Erik Merz, who was wounded by the bomb in the first attack, was today pronounced out of danger. Injury sustained by Count Von Boos-Waldeck, is said to be insignificant. Gabrinovic, it was learned today, had been expelled from Sarajevo two years ago, but recently was permitted to return through the intervention of a socialist member of the Bosnian diet.

Little is known of Archduke Karl Francis Joseph's political leanings, but it is supposed that with the disappearance of such a strong personality Austria may soon enter upon a period of greater quietude than she would have experienced under Archduke Francis Ferdinand.

VILLA AND ARMY AT TORREON.

General's March to Mexico City Blocked by Lack of Ammunition.

DEL PASO, Texas, June 29.—Lack of ammunition has blocked General Villa's march toward Mexico City. Villa, fresh from his victory last week at Zacatecas, has returned to Torreon, bringing his entire army with him.

The relations of the northern zone commander with General Carranza, in the opinion of agents here today, unquestionably caused the abandonment of the campaign. The much discussed Carranza-Villa estrangement has reached a breaking point, they asserted, in that the Constitutional commander-in-chief has declined to allow Villa to import cartridges and shells through the port of Tampico, the only entryway for munitions which the revolutionists may use, as the border still is closed to them by the embargo of the United States. News of Villa's return north yesterday was regarded by both factions here as ominous.

VANITIE PULLS AWAY FROM THE DEFIANCE.

Immense Sail Spread Gives Her
Quite a Long Lead.

Rounds the First Mark Seven Minutes
Ahead and Gaining.

LARCHEMONT, N. Y., June 29.—The Vanitie and Defiance raced today in another tuning-up contest, preparatory to the selection of a defender of the America's cup. Their rival, the Resolute was out of it, laid up for repairs.

In a thick fog which shut in from seaward the boats crossed the line in the following order: Vanitie 1:00:20, Defiance 1:00:27. The first leg was a reach across the Sound to a point off Oak Neck, thence to a buoy off Greenwich, thence to the finish line, the triangular course to be sailed twice around.

The wind was very light at the start and the Vanitie, with her immense spread of sail, drew out quite a lead. The wind began to come in puffs out of the northwest at 1:30 and the Defiance, catching this change of air first, gybed her boom to starboard. A few minutes later the Vanitie caught the change in the wind and also gybed. The Vanitie was about five minutes in the lead at this time.

The yachts rounded the first mark in the following order: Vanitie 1:55:41, Defiance 2:02:10.

The official starting time was: Defiance 1:00:50, Vanitie 1:00:53. It was figured out that the Vanitie would allow the Defiance 5 minutes and 18 seconds over today's course of 29 1/2 miles.

FLETCHER GREETED BY WILSON.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Rear Admiral Fletcher reported to Secretary Daniels today on his return from Vera Cruz and was later received by President Wilson. The admiral takes command of the Atlantic fleet, succeeding Rear Admiral Badger, August 1. Admiral Fletcher was warmly greeted by President Wilson, who told him he greatly admired his conduct at Vera Cruz and the conduct of all the officers and men under him.

THE NEBRASKA AT BOSTON.
Vera Cruz in Excellent Condition Since American Occupation.

BOSTON, June 29.—Battleship Nebraska arrived from Vera Cruz today. Three civilians, William Kerr, a business man of Minneapolis, and two newspaper men were on board. They said that since the American occupation Vera Cruz has been in excellent order and that sanitary regulations were so strict that any serious epidemic seemed impossible.

WASHINGTON OFFICIALS QUIET.
American Minister Williams Forwarding Report on Albania.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—George Fred Williams, American minister to Greece, cabled the State Department today that he was forwarding by mail the full text of his statement on the Albanian situation. While awaiting the minister's own account of his public statement, officials here declined to comment upon his utterances as reported in news despatches.

REGARDING RESIGNATION.
Minister to Greece Quiet as to the Published Report.

ATHENS, Greece, June 29.—George Fred Williams, United States minister to Greece, today refused to give any information regarding the published report that he had sent his resignation to Washington in connection with recent statements about his activities in Albania.

A DIFFICULT SITUATION.
Wilson Says the San Dominican Situation is Very Muddled.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—"Very muddled" was the characterization applied to the San Dominican situation today by President Wilson. He said that it was difficult to know what to do in the Dominican republic, because of the many elements entering into the situation. He received word of the firing by an American gunboat to stop a bombardment by the Federal troops, but did not disclose what he expects to do finally.

ACTUAL RE-BUILDING PREPARATIONS BEGUN.

Stories of Fraud in Connection With Relief Work.

Old Colony Trust Company of Boston
Awarded Bid for Loan of $100,000.

SALEM, Mass., June 29.—Actual work in preparation for the re-building of the great area swept by fire last Thursday was begun today when contractors and architects arrived to look over the ground and make plans for new structures. General approval had been expressed by manufacturers and real estate owners of the plan to give employment so far as possible in the re-construction work to those who lost their homes and working places in the conflagration. Chilly weather and mist continued today and in the early morning a heavy thunder shower drenched the camps where the homeless are sheltered. The camp sites, however, are well drained, and little water entered the tents.

In contrast to the secret session of Saturday, today's meeting of the relief committee was open to the public. Frank F. Cutting of Waltham was appointed civilian director of the general relief work, with special authority over the movement of food supplies. He will organize a civilian force, which will take over as soon as possible all relief now being administered by the military authorities. It was decided to keep the militia here for some time longer, although the force will be reduced as rapidly as possible. Four companies of the Ninth regiment left the city today.

Stories of fraud in connection with the relief work were told at the meeting. Adjutant General Cole reported that cases had been discovered in which bread and other food, given supposedly to fire sufferers, were taken to Lynn and were placed on sale in stores there.

Mrs. Holburn, chairman of the committee on clothing, said that numerous instances of "repeating" had been uncovered. Many persons, she said, had received two and three outfits of clothing which were later placed on sale. The food committee reported that it had been decided to reduce the individual ration by one-half, because it was thought the people were getting more than was necessary.

Bids for a loan of $100,000 in anticipation of taxes were opened by the city council today and the loan was awarded to the Old Colony Trust Company of Boston at 2½ per cent, said to be the lowest known rate for any municipality recently. The Old Colony bid was submitted since the fire and was taken by financial men to indicate that the credit of the city had not been impaired by the disaster. The council appropriated $15,000 for the temporary housing of refugees.

Plans were formulated for supplying work for men at the various refugee camps. As many as possible will be employed at wages of $2 a day.

THE VANITIE WINS EASILY.

Yacht Takes Vanderbilt Cup—Resolute Preparing for Final Races.

With the Resolute out of the racing Saturday, the Vanitie won easily from the Defiance off Oyster Bay, by 12 minutes 5 seconds elapsed or 7 minutes 42 seconds corrected time. The course was 3½ miles, with the wind light and more or less hazy, and the Vanitie being ahead seemed to catch the most of the jockeying usually the case. The larger light sails which she carries told the story of her taking the lead and holding it whenever they were used, but on two of the legs of the race the Defiance made better time than the Vanitie. These were the second and third of the second round, when the wind was uncertain and there was no fair comparison.

The start was at 1:15:08 for the Defiance, 1:15:11 for the Vanitie; the finish 5:40:37 for the Defiance, 5:53:29 for the Vanitie; the elapsed time 4:25:46 and 4:38:23, and the corrected time for the Defiance 4:33:08.

The Vanitie, being second Friday and first Saturday, took the cup given by Commodore Harold S. Vanderbilt of the Seawanhauk Corinthian Yacht Club. Today the yachts have at Larchmont the second contest for the cups given by Vice Commodore P. C. Fletcher. The first race was won by the Vanitie. This time it was to be next Saturday, but this date has been cancelled and it is possible that the two yachts may cover this in a special match Tuesday or Wednesday. The preliminary season is over and the owners are anxious to haul out and prepare for the racing season, which will count, starting off Breton's reef lightship July 7 for the Eastern Yacht Club prize.

The Resolute, in tow of the Cape Cod, arrived in the harbor early Sunday morning and anchored in Francis Park. The boat was left until 7 a. m. when she left for Bristol, where she will prepare for the races off the lightship, when everything will count in the final selection of a defender. It is stated that the cap of her bowsprit is out of place, that the bowsprit itself is of soft wood which does not hold, and that the riveting of the hull is constantly giving way, allowing the hull to leak. All these troubles will receive attention at Bristol.

MRS. SILAS DICKERSON.

An Originator of Colored Women's Clubs Dies at Advanced Age.

Mrs. Mary H., widow of Silas Dickerson, one of the best known of the older colored residents of Newport, died at her home on Newport avenue Sunday evening, after a long illness. She was 83 years old and had lived for many years in this city. Her husband, Silas Dickerson, was a well known resident and for many years janitor of the Rogers High School. Her son, Frederick C. Dickerson, was a pupil at Rogers and later in business in New Bedford and Boston. He died a little more than a year ago. Mrs. Dickerson was one of the originators of colored women's clubs and was president of Newport and state organizations.

INDIAN LAWN FETE.

Original Outdoor Entertainment for Benefit of Historical Society.

One of the most original outdoor fetes yet arranged for the season is that set for July 18, on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. Gillespie, formerly the residence of Mrs. John Carter Brown. The affair, termed an Indian lawn fete, will be given for the benefit of the Newport Historical Society, for the purpose of widening the scope of the institution, increasing its membership and providing additional accommodations for the valuable collections.

The lawn at Mrs. Gillespie's is particularly well adapted for such an exhibition, and in addition to the many and varied relics to be loaned there will be grotesque dancing by members of the summer colony, arranged by Mrs. Lorillard Spencer, Jr. The following is the list of patronesses to date: Mrs. J. Fred Pierson, Mrs. E. Hayward Ferry, Miss Agnes Storer, Mrs. Daniel B. Peering, Miss Elizabeth H. Clark, Mrs. Charles S. Whitman, Mrs. A. Winsor Weld, Mrs. William P. Buffum, Miss Ellen F. YACHT NOMA ARRIVES.

First Visit of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Astor Here Since Their Marriage.

Steam yacht Noma, with Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Astor and Mr. Hermann Oelrichs on board, arrived from New York at noon today and anchored in Breton's cove. Mr. and Mrs. Astor will be guests for a few days of Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs at "Rose Cliff" and during their stay will inspect the Astor residence "Beechwood," which they will later occupy for a portion of the summer. This is the first visit of Mr. and Mrs. Astor to Newport since their marriage.

Later Sunday evening Mrs. Oelrichs received a message from the captain of Mr. Oelrichs's schooner yacht Vagabond II, that the yacht had been in collision with a steamer near New York, her starboard side being cut and the yacht rather damaged. Mr. Astor, who was on board except the captain and the crew, Mr. Oelrichs being on the Noma, Mrs. Oelrichs sent a wireless dispatch from here to the Noma, telling him of the accident to the yacht.

NOT MUCH OF A FIGHT.

Johnson-Moran Contest in Paris is Well Bulletin by The News.

All the telephone interest Saturday evening seemed to center on the Johnson-Moran fight in Paris, and at times the Daily News telephone was kept quite busy. The yacht race was forgotten and there was only one or two inquiries about anything else than fight. The News, through the Associated Press bulletin service, was able to give those who cared the story by rounds and posted the bulletins in the office window, where they were read by large numbers well along into the night.

In addition to what was bulletined then, it seems only necessary to add that those who saw the fight felt bunched. It is still a question whether or not Johnson came back, whether or not he is in condition or can be in condition to make a real fight. He was given the decision on points, greatly out-styling Moran, but there was not a knockdown in the whole 20 rounds. Most of those who know said "take" of some sort, though they are not sure whether it was a fake or each did the best he could. It was not much of a fight.

YACHT MOVEMENTS.

Steam yacht Josephine, Mr. Widener, was in Sunday and sailed in the afternoon; steam yacht Isis, Mr. Leeland, arrived Sunday. The Aloha, Commodore James, and the Wanderer, Mr. H. A. C. Taylor, also sailed. Schooner Cornish arrived and sailed. Schooner Alice, houseboat Haleson, Mr. Morgan, and steam yacht Noma, Mr. Vincent Astor, arrived today and schooner yacht Asana, Mr. Padelford, sailed. The Asana, formerly the Kirm, carried an ashtray tomorrow Friday and came in for one, which was made at the Newport shipyard.

Power boat Ariel has sailed for Bar Harbor. Mr. and Mrs. Morris are going on board in July and the yacht has been chartered. The yacht has been a cruise on her in southern waters.

The queer looking craft, a replica of one of Christopher Columbus's caravels, is Mrs. Morris's houseboat Haleson. That is the sort of ocean going craft they used in 1492.

JAMESTOWN

[Regular correspondence of The News]. Mrs. M. B. Lovering of Philadelphia is at her cottage on the Dumpings for the summer.

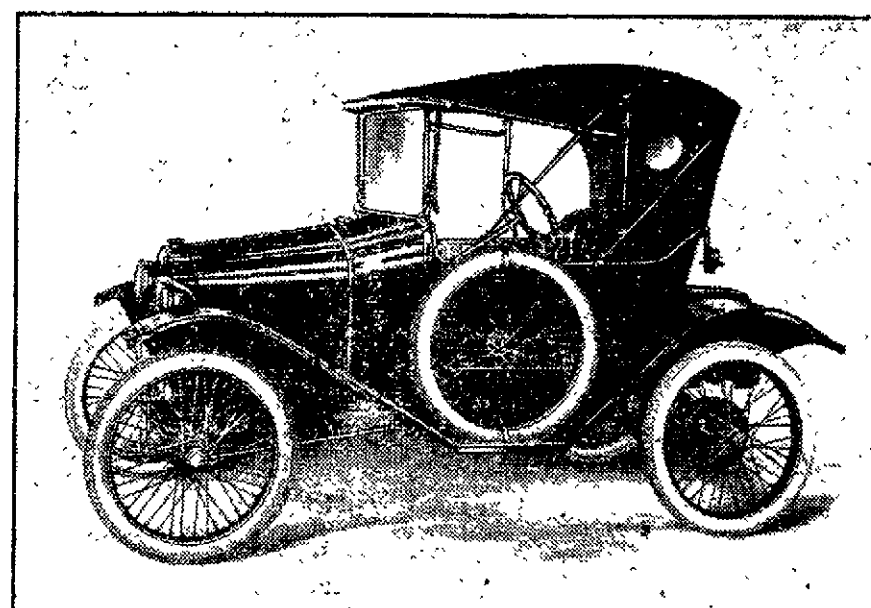

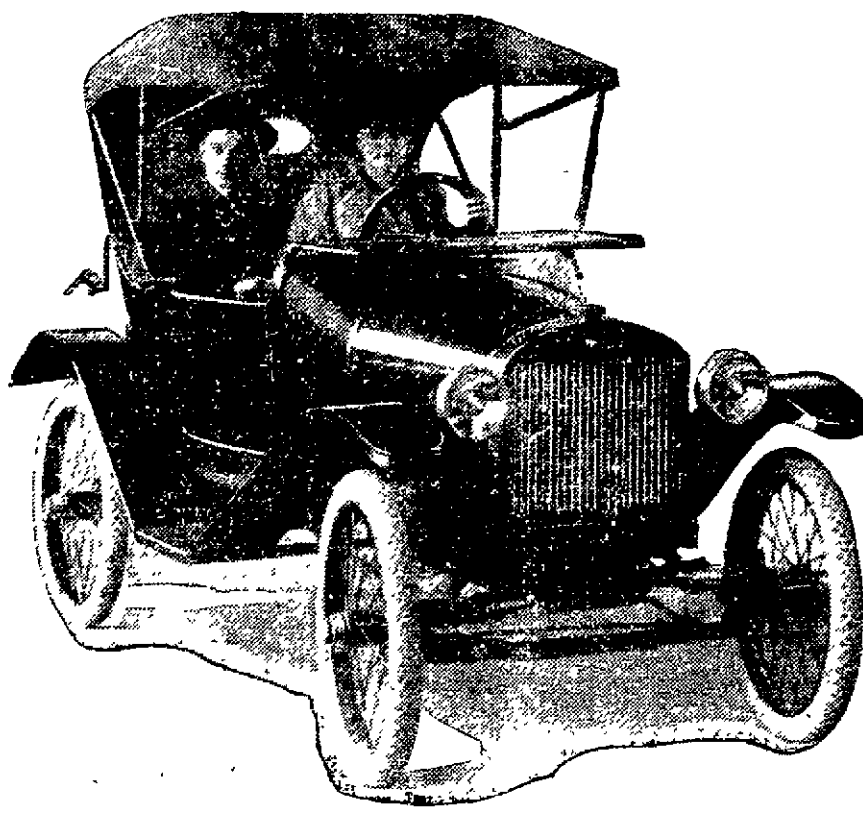

The Casino opened for the season Saturday evening, with a dance. There was a good attendance.

A SUSPICIOUS PERSON.

Man Suspected of Being the Clothes Line Ripper Nabbed by the Police.

Saturday night—or really, Sunday morning—Inspector Tobin and Officer Palmer caught Jules de Motta, who is suspected of being the clothes line ripper, for whom the police have been looking so long. They had been hiding for some time and finally de Motta came into their back yard. Then he was off again on the wings of the night, it seemed—but Officer Palmer can go some and they nabbed him. Also, they have two pairs of stockings, a blue pair of men's and a black pair of boy's style, and would like to find the owners. They were probably taken from some yard. De Motta was arraigned on the charge of being a suspicious person and is held for trial Tuesday.

A man for profane cursing was placed in the custody of the probation officer. A prisoner of Saturday morning was picked up Saturday afternoon, talking to things inanimate on Broadway. He needed care and will have it for five days in the Marlborough Street jail. This morning a man paid $12.50 for assault. Thiverton sent in a couple, who paid fines Sunday morning.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The Newport Art Association at its annual meeting Saturday afternoon elected the following officers:

President—Walter Coles Cabell.

Secretary—Mrs. Maud Howe Elliott.

Treasurer—Charles Biesel.

ARRIVAL OF THE BOXER.

A station ship is again present to fly the flag of the senior officers of the Naval Station, Narragansett Bay. Brig Boxer arrived from Annapolis Saturday afternoon in tow of tug Uncas, and is tied up at the wharf where the Constellation formerly lay, going into commission at once. The little craft was built to instruct the apprentice seamen in handling sailing craft and for the past few years has been at Annapolis for the cadets.

A JUNE DREAM.

[Boston Transcript.]

Speed from the crowded city
Back to the quiet country
Where the air is cool and sweet,
Back to the little village,
Back to the old home ground—
That's what I long to be doing
When the month of June comes round.

Wander down to the meadow,
Pick daisies along the way,
Watch the bees in the orchard,
Sing and be glad all day,
Drink from the spring on the mountain
With its water cool and clear—
That's what I long to be doing
When the month of June is here.

Rest and be friendly with nature,
Roam in the woodlands deep,
Fish in the sparkling waters,
Where the sunbeams dance and leap,
Watch with the stars at midnight,
Row 'neath the silent moon—
That's what I long to be doing
Now, in the month of June.

Forget, in the scent of the roses,
The din of the city street;
Forget, in the deep, cool grasses,
The dragging of weary feet;
Gather memories of sunshine and
sweetness,
To gladden my heart through the year—
That's what I long to be doing
While the month of June is here.

Timbale of Lamb.
In preparing timbale of lamb put meat through the finest cutter of food chopper then pound until reduced to a pulp. Add a thorough seasoning and, to each cupful, one tablespoonful of finely chopped parsley and two well beaten eggs. Pack in a well buttered mold and steam for three quarters of an hour. Make a cupful of white sauce. A moment before taking from the fire add one tablespoonful finely chopped parsley, one teaspoonful lemon juice and yolks of two eggs beaten with a tablespoonful of cream or rich milk, stirring until slightly thickened again.

Cucumbers a La Poulette.
Pare and cut in slices three good sized cucumbers, cover with salted water and let soak for half an hour, then drain and dry on a cloth. Put in a saucepan with two tablespoonfuls of butter and fry over a moderate fire, without browning, for five minutes. Add one scant tablespoonful of flour and, when well mixed, one and one-half cupfuls of chicken or veal broth. Simmer gently 20 minutes, season with salt, pepper and a little sugar; draw saucepan side of the fire and beat yolks of two eggs and one tablespoonful finely chopped parsley. Take from fire as soon as thickened, being careful not to allow sauce to boil again.

HEALTH EDUCATION.

The Indiana health authorities asked the legislature for $5,000 for printing and distributing a book of instructions to mothers regarding the care of their infants. It received only half that amount, and wouldn't have had that if the legislature had not been reminded that it had just appropriated a larger sum for the suppression of hog cholera. With the reduced appropriation the book of instructions will not be sent to all mothers, but to those who have just become mothers of their first babies.

If we ought to give the devil, even, his due, we should do no less for a legislature, the constant target for every sort of ridicule and abuse. We do not seriously believe the Indiana Assembly regarded the health of hogs as more important than that of babies, but it is notorious that hogs do not know how to avoid cholera and it is necessary to instruct their owners. It is, on the other hand, a common impression, and was until lately a universal assumption, that mothers know by intuition or by the instruction imparted to them by their own mothers, how to care for their babies.

Nearly all grandmothers are confident that they know all about babies—haven't they raised 'em?—and many mothers are sure they need no instruction. The truth is that knowledge of how to care for the baby doesn't come with the baby, and while grandma knows a lot, many things have been found out since she reared her last child in the light of her experience with her first. This is an age of research and scientific information and many of the young mothers are glad to be taught how to give their babies a good start in life.

This book of instruction may not teach how Indiana babies are to be brought up to write "best sellers," but it tells the mothers many useful things about keeping the baby well and feeding him so that he will have a good start with the prospect of having a sound mind in a sound body. The Hoosier example is worth following elsewhere.

A NEW COLLEGE CURRICULUM.

President Alexander Meiklejohn of Amherst, formerly dean of Brown University, has caused much discussion among college men all over the country by his recommendation of a radical re-adjustment of the curriculum for such institutions. He has had long experience in the educational field and most of it has been in New England. Therefore his suggestions have much weight, even though they may be, as in this case, radical in their nature and involving a wide change from existing conditions. Moreover, it is understood that he was called to the presidency of Amherst largely because of his unique ideas regarding the field which a comparatively small college like that should try to occupy.
In contrast to the position to which larger universities aspire. During his term at the head of the institution Dr. Meiklejohn has apparently been giving much consideration to this matter and developing on the ground the ideas which he had previously formulated and expressed in a general way.
He has now proposed a course of study for the four years at the college which has aroused the interest of educators everywhere.

The Amherst president has a strong opinion of his own as to the meaning of the term, an educated man, and the aim which a college of liberal education should have, and this opinion he has expressed in the following words: "The liberal college has a definite intellectual mission and it has no right to give its degrees unless that mission has been achieved. It is not enough that a student know a little of everything; so far as it is possible he should be given a knowledge of the world, so extensive and so unified that by means of it he may get a fair understanding of human experience. It is not enough that he should have studied one subject three years; he should go into one field and learn how thinking is done in that field. I would define the intellectually educated man as one who can bring a unified interpretation of the world to bear on the problems of human experience, and who also appreciates how thought has achieved those results which have made his interpretation possible."

Dr. Meiklejohn has presented as a means of carrying out his idea concerning the best sort of education for a small college to offer to its students a curriculum conspicuous by its continuity of subjects from year to year and its inclusiveness. It offers a series of subjects in such relations that each as it is treated leads up to those which are to follow, so that there is no break of thought and study and no lack of cohesiveness in the entire course. At the same time it is, as President Meiklejohn himself says, intended to be representative of the system of human knowledge as a whole.

The most radical feature in this curriculum is a new course for Freshmen, designed as a general introduction to all the other studies of the four years and to show the relations of all these other subjects to each other and to the general line of education. This is exceedingly broad in its scope and general in its nature, as it is the belief of President Meiklejohn that its exact nature must be determined by the teacher who gives it.
It is called in his outline a course in "social and economic institutions," and that is surely broad and inclusive enough to cover almost any line of instruction of a general nature as a foundation for future study which any professor may desire to give or may consider essential.

The faculty and trustees of Amherst have approved this outline of a new curriculum and the college world will watch with interest its development and the results of the rather radical changes involved. If it proves successful it is practically certain that it will lead to a new departure all over the country in the character of the educational offerings of small colleges. It is expected that one result will be what President Meiklejohn believes to be the most desirable, a separation by quite marked lines between the small college of purely liberal education and the university where advanced vocational training is provided. Such a separation seems advisable, and that will be one feature of the new plan which will be watched with special interest. Dr.
Meiklejohn has set a new pace, and apparently in a wise direction.

ARGENTINE CORN "FUTURES."

The imports of Argentine corn for 10 months have been about 9,000,000 bushels. As this is not more than one third of one per cent of a crop in this country, it is not likely to have affected the domestic production or prices. As a matter of fact, corn is nine or 10 cents higher now than a year ago.

Apart from the actual corn imported, there has been in Chicago some speculation in Argentine "futures."
This has a tendency to worry the farmers, who are afraid they are going to be brought into competition with "Chinese cheap labor," or something of that sort. The nervousness of the farmers of course reacts instantly upon the President and the Secretary of Commerce and the leading Democrats in Congress, and give punishment is predicted by the Secretary and by Mr. Taft, a Democratic member from Chicago, if there is any more of this.

The agricultural dread of futures is almost entirely a nightmare. If the selling of imaginary grain has a tendency to depress the price of the actual article, the buying of it must have a tendency to increase the price.
The trading must neutralize the two sides, unless some persons are disposed and able to sell for the purpose of sending prices down and keeping them down. They cannot accomplish this without having the grain to deliver, and the act of securing the grain sends the price up again.

However, the administration is not in very good odor in business circles and feels obliged to fight for its popularity among the farmers, who are the predominant element in the South and West. So we are likely to have the administration meddling with business in a new spot. It can hardly be said to have improved business by its various efforts to enforce the
"new liberty" upon men of affairs, and it is to be feared that if it shall suppress trading in Argentine corn the results will not be more satisfactory than other efforts in this and foreign countries to put a stop to speculation by law.

It is quite a remarkable discovery, made by a committee of the League of Improvement Societies of Rhode Island, that in a tour of inspection of the swamps in Providence, Barrington, Nayatt, North Providence and Cranston not a single infestation of mosquito larvae could be found, and the plan of testing the effect of oil on the larvae was abandoned because there were no signs of mosquitoes anywhere. When the league started its campaign, three or four years ago, billions of mosquito larvae were found in the swamps in Providence alone. Is there any similar movement in this section of the state?

The communication in today's issue from Mrs. Dillon, regarding the city walk and the responsibility for keeping it in condition for public use, opens a very important question, which should be determined at the earliest possible moment. There is no doubt about the dangerous condition of a part of the walk, but there is question as to who is responsible.

It is well to have the matter settled.

A new and better Salem is the cry of the fire-alarm city before the ruins have even cooled. The manufacturing plants say they will not go elsewhere. Better buildings, more compactly grouped and efficiently planned, are promised. Less inflammable construction is advocated for purposes of economy in insurance rates and upkeep.

Portsmouth acts promptly when it is evident that increased school facilities are necessary, proposing to have its new building ready by January 1.
Middletown cannot go on a location, and Newport is delayed in its plans for a new building which the taxpayer approved in December last.

It seems like a good guess that the doctors who advise Roosevelt to remain quiet for four months—until the campaign is over—are not active members of the Progressive party.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE. Three Fundamental Principles of a Policy, Which is Not a Law.

[Theodore S. Woolsey, in North American Review.]

The Monroe Doctrine in its 90 years of life has been so overlaid with comment and so modified and enlarged in development that we are apt to lose sight of its real and fundamental character. By studying its essential nature, by appreciating upon what it is founded and how it is limited, perhaps we may form a juster sense of its usefulness, its meaning, its legality.
But before all and throughout all we must keep in mind that it is a policy, not a law, municipal or international.
The distinctions between policy and law are wide and vital; here are certain of them.

A nation's policy is unilateral.
Though affecting other states, it is formed without their consent; it may therefore be changed without reference to their wishes. Germany has adopted a naval program—that is, a policy of building up an important navy, without consulting Great Britain. The United States determined to dig a Panama canal itself, without getting the consent of other commercial powers except that of England, which had been given a veto of such action by treaty.

There are now three fundamental principles which characterize the policy of President Monroe as it was and as it is. For the sake of coherence and completeness they are stated together here and then examined separately.

1. The Monroe Doctrine was a statement of policy, originated and maintained by reason of self-interest, not of altruism. 2. It was justifiable by reason of the right of self-defense which is a recognized principle of international law. 3. It called for new rights into being; therefore, whenever it oversteps the principle of self-defense, reasonably interpreted, the right disappears and the policy is questionable because it then violates the rights of others.

The Monroe Doctrine thus is to be regarded from a two-fold point of view. As a policy meaning and accomplishing what other states submit to, and what seems to the United States useful. As a measure of self-defense, which cannot be pushed beyond the facts calling for self-defense and yet be legally justifiable.

PORTSMOUTH. Appropriation for a New School House Voted at Special Town Meeting.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]
Saturday evening about 50 qualified electors convened at the town hall in a special town meeting, called to rescind from a vote passed at the financial town meeting May 6, to convert the town hall into rooms suitable for a grammar school; also, to consider a site and the building of a new school for a grammar school, and the abatement of certain taxes. At present the schools of Portsmouth seem to be in a congested condition, to be relieved only by the building of a new structure suitable to accommodate a large number of pupils. A few years ago the town found itself in practically the same condition and built on an old site a three-room school building which would accommodate about 150 scholars. The committee rejoiced in the fact that it had a building suitable to relieve the crowded condition of the schools at that time and perhaps sufficient to accommodate all the increase for many years to come. Only six years has elapsed and the three-room building is filled to overflowing. It is called for immediate action whereby all the children may have suitable quarters.

The meeting was called to order at 7:45 by Moderator Benjamin Earl Anthony, with Town Clerk George
R. Hicks acting as clerk.
It was voted, without discussion, to rescind from the vote passed at the financial town meeting, concerning the changing of the town hall into a grammar school.

A motion was made that $7,000 be appropriated for a new school building, without the land, but this was lost. It was then voted that a two-room building be erected in the vicinity of the town hall; also that John R.
Coggeshall, John L. Borden and Michael J. Murphy be a committee to secure a suitable location and to cause to be erected such a building. The sum of $10,000 was appropriated for the new schoolhouse and its location, the vote standing 27 to 11. The committee was directed to have the building fully completed by January 1, 1915.

It was also voted that all of a certain list of unpaid taxes presented by the town council be abated, with the exception of that assessed against Theophilus Caron and Manuel F.
Silvia.

The meeting adjourned about 8:45.

CANDY STAND WAS MOVED.

Nathan David Sees Sullivan, Tobin and Bradley for Trespass.

Decree Entered, in Superior Court, Dissolving the Lappin Company.

The June session of the superior court was resumed, after a week's intermission, at 11:30 this morning. Judge Barrows presided.

Mr. Levy, counsel for defendant, presented a stipulation that the case of the New England Iron Works Company vs. Newport Iron Foundry & Machine Company be entered settled. Judge Barrows was the attorney for plaintiff.

Attorney General Phillips asked for sentence of Lawrence Finn, long ago convicted of seduction, the case having come down from the supreme court, which over-ruled the motion for new trial.

Finn appeared and Mr. Nolan, his attorney, asked for delay until October. He said defendant is working and it is difficult to fill his plate. The case was adjourned because Judge Lee, who in the case, died before the record of evidence was approved by him. Mr. Phillips did not object, but desired it understood that sentence will be pronounced the first day of the October session. It was so ordered.

Mr. Levy called up the petition to dissolve the Lappin Company, which has sold all its property to the Doran Company. Lawrence W. Coudry testified. Decree was entered, granting the petition.

The case of Nathan David vs. Jeremiah K. Sullivan et al. was given to a jury. Mr. Burdick appearing for plaintiff and Messrs. Nolan and Harvey for defendants, of whom there were three. Messrs. Sullivan, Stanley D. Tobin and Harry Bradley. It was an action for trespass, October 10, 1909.

The following jurors were called: Henry Sprague, New Shortham; Peleg Wilcox, Tiverton; Michael Dyanan, Newport; Edward M. Petzka, Middletown; Patrick McGrath, Fred Priestley, James McCarthy, Edward P. Gosling, Joseph Gibson, John Glynn, Newport; Fred W. Castino, Tiverton; William Buehler, Newport.

Mr. Gosling had heard so much of the case that he was excused and Henry D. Root of Newport was called. He is a little deaf but thought he could hear from a front seat. Messrs. McCarthy, McGrath and Gibson were challenged and Frank P. Gladding, Alfred L. Carry and Joseph P. Habib of Newport were called. Messrs. Gladding and Habib were challenged and James Robertson and William F. Kelly were called. Mr. Kelly, being a car conductor, was excused. Joseph C. Quirk of Little Compton was called. Mr. Wilcox was excused and Edward M. Petzka of Newport was called. This completed the panel and Juror Quirk was appointed foreman. Spare jurors were excused until 9:30 a. m. Tuesday.

Mr. Burdick explained the case, which is an old one. Mr. David was a tenant of the premises on the corner of Spring and Federal streets. He had the candy stand at the south of the corner building and closed it for the season, leaving in it a large amount of stock. October 10, 1909, he visited it twice and found it all right. Later he received information which caused him to go there, and found his stand had been moved to the rear and the "Broadway Lunch Wagon" had been placed on the front of the lot. He found his place wrecked and his goods and private papers scattered all about and in the street. He sued the Old Colony Street Railway Company, and at the trial Mr. Sullivan admitted that he did the moving, for the other two defendants.

Clerk Harvey produced the record of the case against the street railway company. Plaintiff took the stand, telling a story similar to that in the trial of the former case. He saw Mr. Tobin there and told him there was not room for the lunch cart. Mr. Tobin said there would be. Later that day he found the wagon on the lot, and everything belonging to his own place in a mess. "The kids" were scattering his post cards and everything else all over Franklin and Spring streets. His large show cases were smashed. His front was 15 or 20 feet. The lunch wagon occupied the whole of this, so that there was no passing to the rear of it.

Defendants came to see him and said they did it and were willing to settle with him. (The part about settling was stricken out.) He said many people came to the place, it being the transfer station for the cars. He also lost his tenants for the corner building by the lunch wagon being there.

Plaintiff read a long list of contents of his stand, including more than 6,000 post cards, cigars, etc. He paid $75 for his soda fountain. The show cases were worth $25. The total value of contents was $326.39 and that of the building $75; it cost $100. All his stock is figured at wholesale price. The wagon was there since two years, during which time he was never able to go by it to the rear of the lot, or to use his building again. He hired by the year and paid monthly. In cross-examination Mr. Nolan asked about the letting of the premises. He was to pay $30 for the lot for a year. Then he took the house, the whole being $180 a year. He sublet the tenement for $180, thus having the lot rent free. He put up his stand in 1906. It was about 12 by 6 feet, 20 feet high; wred and painted. The lumber was the best—better than pine; he couldn't say what kind of wood it was. Could not tell what the lumber cost. The stand was painted every year. It cost $100; he allowed $25 for 3 years wear and tear.

TENNIS AT THE CASINO.

Two Rounds Played in Women's Subscription Handicap Singles.

A women's subscription handicap singles in lawn tennis was started at the Casino this morning, with the following results:

In the first round Miss Mildred Rives defeated Mrs. Lawrence L. Gillespie, by default; Mrs. Lorillard Spencer, Jr., beat Mrs. Stuart Dunton, 6-4, 7-5; Miss Frederica Payne won over Miss Anita Crockett, 6-3, 6-4; over Miss John G. Darlington, 7-5, the second set being won by default. In the second round Miss Margaret J. Busk won over Miss Mimi Scott, 6-3, 6-4, and Mrs. Howard G. Cushing defeated Miss Edna Barker, 7-5, 6-3.

TWO SUNDAY STILLS.

Combination I had two practice runs Sunday. The first came at 3:49, when a still called the firemen to the corner of Old Beach road and Tew's court, the West estate, where there had been a chimney fire, but there was nothing to do.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mr. George H. Sherman is visiting in Boston and New York.

—Mrs. Ray Groff with her young son has gone to Atlanta, Ga., to visit her parents.

—Mrs. Augustus Kountz and Mrs. Karl W. Newhoff of New York are at the Muenchinger-King.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Chase of Washington, sister of Mr. J. B. F. Smith, arrived Sunday for the season.

—The Dark Night, in the Century. The scene is laid on Conanicut Island.

—Steamer Warwick brought down the excursion of Grace Church, Providence, today, 1,400. Steamer Sagamore was also here with an excursion party.

—The annual lawn party for the benefit of the children's ward at the Newport Hospital will be held on the hospital grounds Thursday afternoon, July 23.

—Mrs. James Herbert Shaw and her daughter, Mary Elizabeth, of Syracuse N. Y., are visiting Mrs. Shaw's sister, Mrs. George D. Bailey, on Elliott place.

—Messrs. Andrews & Weaver have rented for the summer, to Paulding Postoffice of New York, the cottage belonging to John Cadwalader, on Bellevue avenue.

—Mrs. John J. Mahoney of Fort Adams has returned from a trip to Springfield, Mass., after having attended the wedding of her sister, as matron of honor.

—Mayor Boyde has been invited to review the parade after the drill of the apprentices at the Training Station Tuesday afternoon in connection with the visit of the Worcester Board of Trade.

—Mrs. Wetherill's power boat Chipper and Father Coyle's little power boat Florence have been launched from Williams & Manchester's and Mr. Mallinckrodt's power boat Poly was taken to the freight yard to be shipped to Lake George.

—Torpedo boat destroyer McDougal had a little trouble at Bradford last week and as a result her propellers were bent and broken. The damage was done while going alongside the dock to take on oil. She left this morning for repairs.

—The smell of illuminating gas in the trench opened by the Providence line on Broadway for the repair of the tracks was so great Saturday that the foreman says he was obliged to quit work frequently. This is the only section where the ties have rotted.

—Registers at the Casino include Rutherford O. Ainslee of Oak Park, Ill., George F. Kelley of Providence, Waine Goodrich of Boston, J. Gordon Douglas, W. Earl Dodge, Richard Van Wyck, Prince Troubetzkoy and Eugene Reynold of New York, and Lester Leland of Boston.

—The Vision, a missionary pageant, was repeated at the Second Baptist Church Sunday evening by the half-hundred members of the Sunday School named in the News last week. A party of men from the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association attended the service.

—Mr. Oscar S. Adler of New York this morning arrived and will assume the leadership of the beach orchestra this evening. He will be here for the season and will introduce the new swing of dance music which is characteristic of the steps and with which he has made a great name for himself. He is at the Aqueduct.

—It is expected that Newport will be largely represented at the annual meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs at Fruit Hill, Providence, Wednesday. Mrs. David T. Pinniger is state director from this city and the Current Topics Club will be represented by Mrs. E. O. Riggs and Mrs. Benjamin F. Thurston. Other members of the club may also attend.

—Sunday was a rather chilly day. It threatened rain about all day, and rained at times just enough to make the sea good. The total fall according to the Water Works gauge was only .21 of an inch. This made the total for the month, and since May 12 also, just 1.04 inches. The rain, however, did a great deal of good, as the grass and other things showed.

—Keeper William J. Christenson, at Gooseberry island, went to the rescue of Police Officer Casey Sunday morning, while the latter was on a fishing expedition in a skiff off the island. It was rather choppy and the skiff swamped. This fact was observed on shore by both Christenson and his son, and both shoved off in boats to the rescue, but the father was the first to arrive.

—Again today crushed stone was hauled to enter Broadway faster than it could be spread, and in consequence the cars were more or less delayed. Good progress is consequently being made in the filling between the tracks. Owing to the dampness it was not possible to work the asphalt plant and possible on the surface, so the plant was moved from Redlow avenue farther down Broadway, where it will be more handy to the work now to be done.

ARRANGED FOR THE FOURTH.

Prizes For Athletic and Field Sports and Swimming Contests.

Biggest Series For the Celebration Which Newport Has Had For Many Years.

Alderman Kirby of the sub-committee of the aldermanic committee on the city's Fourth of July celebration has arranged a program of athletic and field sports and swimming contests, which will comprise the biggest series Newport has had for many years on the Fourth.

Alderman Kirby will be in charge, with Physical Director Slocum of the Young Men's Christian Association as his chief assistant. The athletic and field events will be held at Moravia park, beginning at 2 o'clock, and will include 100-yard dash, sack race, 880-yard dash, running high jump, pole vault, mile relay race for teams of four men each, and tug of war. The different events will be for the official Newport championships and the prizes will be as follows:

100-yard dash—1, pair of Spaulding spiked running shoes; 2, silk sash; 3, safety razor.
Sack race—1, white flannel outfit; 2, 3, straw hat; 3, necktie.
Running high jump—1, rawhide suit case; 2, rubber-soled outing shoes; 3, pocketbook.
880-yard dash—1, gold watch chain; 2, watch fob; 3, pair gold cuff links.
Pole vault—1, $7 sweater; 2, long-sleeved jersey; 3, running suit.
Relay race—Medals for each man on winning team.

Tug of war—Banner for winning team. It is hoped to secure teams of 25 men each from the Torpedo Station and Fort Adams for this event.

At 4:30 o'clock there will be, off Battery park, a cutter race by crews from the Training Station and a program of swimming events. The latter will include 100-yard dash for men and boys, the prizes being a bath robe, a silk umbrella and a bathing suit; 100-yard dash for women and girls, with a woman's bathing suit, a silk parasol and a pair of silk gloves as prizes; and mile swim, the biggest event of the day.

PROBATE COURT.

Will of William T. Dennis Proved, Distribution of Mary C. Shaw Estate.

In the probate court this morning the will of William T. Dennis was proved and letters testamentary were granted to Edwin S. Burdick. The personal estate will not exceed $3,300; bond $6,600, no surety required. The sum of $1,000 is left in trust, the interest to go to his nephew, John D. Dennis, on his death this goes, with all the rest of the estate, to the widow and children of his deceased cousin, Winton Dennis.

Letters of administration on the estate of Eliza Edwards were granted to James Graham, John D. Dennis, will not exceed $125; bond $250, surety Hugh Williamson. Heirs at law—Edward J. Edwards and Mrs. Edward J. Edwards, father and mother.

ALL OUT FOR A WET TIME.

Apprentice Seamen Have Cork Races and Hear a Talk on Vera Cruz.

"All out for a wet time" was the cry at the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association Saturday afternoon, and the apprentice seamen in the building responded by adjourning to the swimming pool. After much discussion, not unmixed with splashing water, cork races were decided upon as the "piece-de-resistance." Three races were held, and the statistics are as follows: First race, won by Tribert; second, Roberts; third, Jay.

At 7:30 a social was held, at which E. R. Harrington, seaman on the Utah, gave a talk on the conditions in Vera Cruz. As Mr. Harrington took part in the capture of the city, and as he has been stationed there until recently, his talk was interesting, and was received with hearty approval by his audience. Indian wrestling followed, S. C. Skiff winning the contest by throwing eight men.

Sunday morning Secretary E. O. Andrews had charge of the service at the Naval Training Station, assisted by Mr. J. D. Sutherland, in charge of the Association's social department, who spoke. The regular song service and Bible class was omitted, owing to the lateness of the liberty party.

At 7:30 the men formed a party and marched to the Second Baptist Church Rev. F. G. McKeever, D. D., spoke on foreign missions and the convention in Boston, which he attended recently. Following his address "The Vision" was put on.

At 9 o'clock the men of the Association building by members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. The boys gave three hearty cheers for the women and a large number of pledges were distributed and signed. The usual stereopticon lecture was omitted.

OVER FIVE HUNDRED EXPECTED.

Worcester Board of Trade to Parade to the Beach With Their Own Band.

Long Anticipated Outing Expected to Materialize Tuesday According to Program.

Officials of the Worcester Chamber of Commerce, who were in town Sunday, completing details for the visit here of leading business and professional men of that bustling city Tuesday, reported that returns had been made on the sale of 400 tickets. This gives them assurance that not only will the original number be reached but more than 500 are now expected to come. The committee of the local Board of Trade has been promised the use of 32 automobiles for Newport's part of the entertainment, but more are needed and Secretary Comberford hopes a number of additional owners will volunteer the use of their cars tonight or early in the morning.

The party will leave Providence on steamer Watwick at 9 o'clock and will be due here a little after 11. The original plan was to take trolley cars to the beach, but the visitors are desirous of showing Newport people how business interests can come together in other cities, and so a parade to the beach has been planned, provided the weather is favorable. A band will be brought on the trip, and headed by this and escorted by the local committee the parade will be from Commercial wharf up Thames street to Washington square, Fourth street, Bellevue avenue and Bath road.

The new Chamber of Commerce banner, of which the organization is very proud, will be carried and in line will also be the famous committee, 40 in number, who a year ago boosted the membership of the organization. The committee will appear in special uniform. The whole outfit will be heard from as soon as they strike the city, and there seems no reason why the outing to which the Worcester people have been looking forward with such anticipation will not be carried out according to program.

Upon arrival at the beach a special dinner will be served, at 2:45 they will take the automobiles for the ride about the city, at 4 o'clock there will be a drill at the Training Station and at 5 they will embark on their special steamer for the return trip.

THREE FUNERALS.

Services for John W. Boardley, Frederick Hummel and Corporal Taylor.

John W. Boardley, who died at Narragansett Pier, was buried here Saturday afternoon with Grand Army honors. The funeral took place from the residence of his sister, Mrs. Joseph T. Ray, on Kingston avenue, to the Mt. Zion African Methodist Episcopal Church where the service was in charge of Rev. Charles N. Gibson, assisted by Rev. Henry N. Jeter, D. D. and Rev. T. W. Cook. The Grand Army ritual was conducted by Senior Vice Commander William S. Stoenum. Chaplain John T. Delano and Adjutant Charles H. Clarke of Lawton-Warren Post. The interment was in the Old cemetery.

The funeral of Frederick Hummel took place from his late residence on Hope street Sunday afternoon. Rev. N. J. Spauld of the First Presbyterian Church officiating. St. John's Lodge of Masons, Worshipful Master Charles E. Bardsley, conducted the Masonic ritual at the grave in the Braman cemetery. The bearers were John T. Allan, John D. Braman, George H. Karp, Joseph Gibson, George E. Houghton and Charles H. Gesterling, members of the Masonic fraternity.

The body of Corporal Charles C. Taylor, of the One Hundred and Ninth company, coast artillery corps, who died at Fort Greble, last week, was taken Saturday night to the home of his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Spoor, at Camden, N. J., after a military funeral at Fort Greble. Corporal McIntyre of the One Hundred and Ninth company had charge of the body.

RIGHTS ALONG THE CLIFF WALK.

Those of the Public and Property Owners Matter for Settlement in Courts.

Mrs. Ridlon Willing to Do Her Part if City Repairs Broken Sea Wall at "Rhuddlans."

To the Editor of the Daily News: I wish to thank the writer of the article, "On the Cliff Walk," which appears in the Daily News of June 26, for calling attention to the condition of the Cliff Walk, and placing the responsibility of its maintenance where it properly belongs; namely, on the city of Newport. I have been informed by the highest legal authority that the question as to the right of the public to use the Cliff Walk is a matter which has never been decided in the courts. It has been assumed that the public have the right of passage along the shore for the purpose of fishing. This privilege has been exercised upon until now it is assumed that the Cliff Walk is in effect a public highway.

The question as to whether it is or is not a public highway may as well be settled now as later. If it is a public highway, the city should be held responsible both for its safety and its decency. The street commissioner or park commissioners should be instructed as to their responsibility for the safety of the walk for life and limb, and the police should provide protection to the innocent public from scenes that may be witnessed at twilight along its course. If, on the other hand, it is the opinion of the city solicitor that the Cliff Walk is not a public highway, for which the city is responsible, and that the public only have a right of passage along the shore, I shall be very glad to remove that portion of board walk and stairway in front of my property and let the public find its way along the shore as best it may.

Five years ago I desired to have constructed a cement walk along the shore front of my property. Verbal estimates given me by a reliable Newport contractor for the work were $1,000. When about half of the walk had been completed the contractor presented his bill for so much as he had finished. His charge for the first half amounted to more than twice his estimate for completing the entire walk. It was impossible, then, and has been impossible since that time, for me to complete that cement walk.

While taking the Cliff Walk it will readily appear that some of the wealthy property owners have arranged the walk along the sea wall so that their homes may be protected as well as may be from the passing public. There are extensive grounds which can be managed, but on the small plot at "Rhuddlans," with its four cottages, such an arrangement is not possible. Surely no one expects me to provide a passage for the public through the center of my grounds, and I am not prepared to remove one or two of my cottages from where they now stand and for nearly half a century, to make a mere common walk for the public use of Easton's beach, from which the city receives considerable revenue.

As to the responsibility for repairs to the broken sea wall, it would appear evident to any one that this lies with the city, and that the precedent established by the city in maintaining a sea wall around such portions of the Ocean Drive as have been neglected by the local property owners establishes the responsibility for the repair of that portion of the sea wall to which attention has been called by the writer of the article referred to above. If the sea wall in front of "Rhuddlans" were re-built, it would be quite a simple matter to provide a safe walk.

Personally I was very glad to have the mayor of Newport, the Board of Aldermen, the street commissioner, the city solicitor, the members of the Representative Council and the park commissioners take the matter under consideration, and if possible settle once for all the question between the rights of the public and the rights of the property owners along the Cliff Walk.

Newport, June 27, 1914.

SUSTAINED SLIGHT SHOCK.

Mr. James P. Taylor Returns to Newport and May be Out Soon.

Later information in regard to the illness of Mr. James P. Taylor is to the effect that he sustained a slight shock while in New York. His friends in the establishment of the Rogers Peet Company gave him every attention, taking him to his hotel, calling in a physician and removing him as long as they could be of service. Mr. Taylor insisted upon returning to Newport, and the doctor consented only on condition that he (the physician) should accompany him.

Mr. Taylor is confined to bed at his rooms, in charge of a nurse, but suffers no inconvenience. It is expected that he will be able to resume his usual duties after a comparatively short time of rest.

SOCIAL ENTERTAINMENTS.

Dinner and Large Dance at Training Station—Other Functions.

Captain and Mrs. Rogers Welles gave a dinner at the Naval Training Station Saturday evening for their house guests, Misses Caroline and Margaret Welles and Miss Margaret Eddy. The other present were Miss Katherine McKnight and her guest, Miss Ethel McCormick, Paymaster George W. Pigman, Jr., Surgeon David B. Allen, Ensigns Carroll M. Hall and William E. Chesdale, and Mr. Russell Belts. The guests went from the dinner to the Naval War College to attend the dance given by Paymaster Pigman and Surgeon Allen. This was the largest given at the War College, the invitations numbering about 150, including the army and navy officers stationed at Newport, and the members of their families and many of the summer and winter residents of the city. The dance took place in the board room at the Naval War College, which was decorated with flags and ship signals. The Naval Station band furnished music and supper was served during intermission.

Mrs. French Vanderbilt entertained at dinner at "Harbourview" Saturday evening in honor of the Russian ambassador, Count Benckendorff. The table decorations were of lilacs of the valley, yellow iris and ferns. The grounds were brilliantly illuminated with electric lights. Among the guests were Mrs. Amos Tuck, French who came from New York to attend the dinner.

Captain and Mrs. George T. Perkins gave a dinner at Fort Adams Saturday evening in honor of General Claude J. Bailey, the other guests were Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. George F. Landers, Major Robert S. Abernathy, Major Joseph Wheeler, Jr., Captain and Mrs. Samuel F. Dulam, Captain and Mrs. Homer B. Grant, Mrs. Cushman Bromberg and Captain and Mrs. Allen D. Raymond.

Mrs. French E. Chadwick had guests at luncheon at "Twin Oaks" Saturday afternoon, in honor of the Misses Laura and Virginia Beekman. Mrs. R. Livingston Beekman gave a luncheon at "Land's End," and Mrs. Thomas F. Dwyer a children's party at Fort Adams.

Mrs. Katherine Knight gave a luncheon at the Naval War College Sunday afternoon, her guests being Miss Edith McCormick, Misses Carolyn and Margaret Welles, Miss Margaret Eddy, Mrs. William L. Pryor, Miss Saxon, Miss Durrell and Miss Ruth Thomas.

At Mr. Preston Gibson's luncheon at the Clam Bake Club Saturday, for Mr. Edward B. McLean, the other guests were Colonel Henry Brevoort Kane, Dr. Harry J. Knapp, Mr. Walter S. Andrews and Mr. William Merrill.

Mrs. William Woodward gave a luncheon at "The Cloisters" Sunday afternoon for Prince Paul Troubetzkoy, and Mrs. R. Livingston Beekman a luncheon at "Land's End."

MARRIED AT JAMESTOWN.

Wedding of Miss Elizabeth Craven and Ensign Wyman Hastened.

Announcement was made at Jamestown Saturday afternoon by Commander John B. Craven, U. S. N. (retired), and Mrs. Craven of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Elwyn Craven, to Ensign Robert Scott Wyman, U. S. N., at St. Matthew's Church, Jamestown, June 18. Mrs. Craven says the engagement of her daughter had been made known in December, but the couple had not expected to be married until the autumn. Recently, however, Ensign Wyman received orders to report for duty on board the Virginia, in Mexican waters, within 10 days, and he and Miss Craven decided to hasten the marriage at once. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles W. Burrows.

Only members of the family were present at the wedding. Commanders and Mrs. Craven, Mrs. Craven's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Barnard, of Rochester, N. Y.; Mrs. Wyman, mother of the bridegroom; Ensign Wyman's brother, Mr. Charles H. Wilson of Pittsfield, Mass.; his brother-in-law and sister; Mr. Louis Wyman, his brother, who was best man, and Ensign Francis S. Craven, a brother of the bride and Mrs. Wyman are on their honeymoon, and will return to Jamestown Tuesday, when Mrs. Craven will give a luncheon for them.

EVER FRESH AND WELCOME.

"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" Expected to Draw Many Children.

When the Malley-Denison Stock Company begins the week at the Opera House with "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" the management promises to give it in a grand way. The play surpasses any of its former presentations in this city. The play has been called a phenomenal international success, having played the largest runs in both Europe and Australia. An American production, like "The Old Homestead" and "Way Down East" it is ever fresh and welcome, and bids fair to continue for many years as one of the big drawing cards of the American stage.

Mrs. Wiggs, played by the actress, Lovely Mary, Miss Hazy, Stubbs, Criss Hazy, Lucy and all the little Wiggses are almost as familiar to both young and old as the "Mother Goose" rhymes, and the play is expected to draw large numbers of children.

A VARIED TRIP.

Accident to the Pontiac Sends Belcher-Loomis Party Back by Trolley.

The Belcher-Loomis outing party, which came to the beach Saturday afternoon, had its trip unexpectedly varied. They came down the bay on steamer Pontiac, and under tow from Sandy Point, where the propeller blades were broken and she signaled the Seven Brothers for assistance. The return trip was made by the Providence Short Line, special cars being provided, leaving at 7:50 this trolley, ferry and steam trolley took the place of the intended trip. The party at the Pontiac remained here and will be hauled out at the shipyard Tuesday by ferryboat J. A. Saunders. It then launched a new wheel will be fitted at the yard and then the steamer will be prepared to continue her summer excursions. The party at the shipyard are occupied by schooner yacht Princess.

SEAMEN GUNNERS VICTORS.

Defeat of Glenwoods and Aquidnecks increases Sailors' Lead in City League.

Training Station Team Takes Torpedo Station Nine in Tow With a 10 to 8 Score.

Two victories at Wellington park Saturday afternoon increased the Seamen Gunners' lead in the City League until they are a full game ahead of the Broadways, who are making a hard fight for the cup. In both instances the games were close, especially that against the Aquidnecks, when the Seamen Gunners were forced to use their three best pitchers in order to win a 10-inning victory. The first game against the Glenwoods, found the sailors victors by a 6-1 score, the Glenwoods playing better ball than the score indicates.

For seven innings in the first game the Glenwoods made a hard battle, and Hugh Burns, the best of the navy pitcher was sent in to subdue them. After the fifth, they did well behind Hamilton, who made a good impression as a pitcher. This young strike out five, besides holding the heat hitting aggregation to seven hits, three of which were scratchy. Kinnaid and Burns pitched good ball for the winners, Kinnaid fanning seven men.

The Glenwoods began well in the opening inning. Kirwin walked, stole second and went to third on Maloney's tap to Neulbott. Kinnaid shot a corking double to centre, he been a little faster. In their half the Seamen Gunners tied the score. Offer opened with a three-base blow, and tallied when Marland's dancing fame let one of Hamilton's inshoots go by him.

After McNally had grounded out in the third inning Neulbott singled, Neulbott started for second and tallied on Kinnaid's second hit. The score remained 2-1 until the seventh inning, when errors and one hit gave the sailors three runs. Ensign reached second on a single, and Halpin had safe on Hamilton's error. Offer was to third. Offer stole second and Neulbott and both runners scored on McNally's long single to right centre. McNally later came in with the last run, on Shea's error.

The fielding of Donahue at shortstop was a feature. The score:

Time—1:38.

The Aquidnecks had an excellent chance to win the second game, which they dropped in 10 innings by a 7-4 score. They lost their golden opportunity in the eighth inning, after some reckless base running, and further aided in their own defeat by critical errors by Dring at second in the final inning. With two men on base, Dring dropped a throw for a force-out, and after that the three runs scored, which gave the sailors their second victory.

Cremen twirled a nice game for the Aquidnecks, and with support should have won. Six errors behind him, while the Seamen Gunners made but one misplay behind Kinnaid and Burns tells the story. Although Kinnaid pitched excellent ball, striking out 10 in the six innings he was on the mound, Shubert endeavored to twirl for the Seamen Gunners in the second game but lasted only one inning, his curve being hammered all over the lot for three runs, which the Aquidnecks held as a lead for some time.

Cremen twirled excellent ball in the opening inning, when he struck out Offer, McNally, and Neulbott in succession. Kinnaid opened the Aquidneck rally with a walk, after which Connolly made the first of his three hits. Butler's slashing two-bagger scored both Kenney and Connolly. Butler sprinting to third on a fielder's choice. The hit and run play worked admirably when Denniston hit to Wally while Butler was sprinting home. Sullivan then doubled, but was left stranded when Dring and Shea filed out.

An error and Wally's two-base hit in the third enabled the Seamen Gunners to tie the score. Kinnaid, Farland and Ramsey tallying. The sailors went ahead in the eighth, when Neulbott beat out a bun, stole second and scored. Kinnaid's second hit. The Aquidnecks tied in their half, however, and should have won the game. Burns, who was pitching for the Seamen Gunners, was hit freely. Kenney opened with a single and Connolly singled, but Kenney was put out at third, trying to take the two bases on the hit. Butler then singled, scoring Connolly. But-

HUNDREDS MADE HAPPY.

Taxed to the utmost for four full days our entire sales force last Saturday night was just about ready to drop; but each wore a happy smile conscious of the part he was playing in making you the happy possessors of many things which, under ordinary conditions, you would not feel you could afford, or in providing you with the really necessary things which you had decided just at present you would have to get along without. It is our loss to be sure, but it's your gain and we're satisfied with that.

the greatest we have ever known of. One young man told us Saturday that he could furnish his new home better here than he could anywhere else, and at a real saving of more than one hundred and fifty dollars, and he had the figures of three other concerns to prove his statement. Showing to you the tremendous saving that runs through every department of this great store.

To quote here prices on individual pieces conveys no clear idea to you that the price quoted on is one you would care for at any price; but just remember that not a piece of any description has escaped the knife, and that whatever you want is now priced at from 20 to 40 per cent less than it ought to be as an inducement to you to take our goods for a little of your money.

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED IN CITY OF SARAYEVO.

Throwing of Bomb Signal for Anti-Servian Outbreak.

Semi-Official Report of Shooting of Archduke Francis Ferdinand.

SARAYEVO, Bosnia, June 28.—Martial law was proclaimed today in both the city and the district of Sarajevo, in consequence of the assassination here yesterday of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and the Duchess of Hohenberg.

ARCHDUKE FRANCIS FERDINAND.

A bomb thrown by a youth standing on the main square of the city was the signal this morning for a serious anti-Servian outbreak, which the troops found considerable difficulty in quelling. The only damage done by the bomb was a slight injury to a passing Musulman, but the rougher element seized on the incident as an excuse to start a demonstration. They were joined by a number of Croatian students and the crowd passed along the street, stoning the windows of Servian shops, clubs, schools and houses and looting the interiors.

The manifestos paraded the streets with a portrait of Emperor Francis Joseph at their head. They sang the Austrian national anthem and attacked everything Servian until they were confronted by an overwhelming force of soldiers.

Martial law was proclaimed by beat of drum and the posting of placards. All the chief points of the city were immediately occupied by troops.

Deaths masks were taken of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and the Duchess of Hohenberg, who were assassinated yesterday by Gavrilo Princip, while on an official visit to the Bosnian capital. The bodies of the two victims were then enshrouded and placed on a catafalque in the chapel of the palace, where they were today surrounded by a magnificent display of wreaths and other floral emblems from all parts of the country.

According to the semi-official report of the tragedy, at the time the fatal shot was fired, Field Marshal Oskar Potiorek, governor of Bosnia, was seated in the archduke's motor car. Archduke Francis Ferdinand was standing on the footboard of the car, acting as a shield to the occupant of whom he had instituted himself the special bodyguard after the bomb had been thrown a short time before by Nedjeljo Gabrinovic. The archduke was looking south, the count about his precautions when the report of several shots rang out. The aim of the assassin was so true that each of the bullets inflicted a mortal wound.

For an instant after the attack Field Marshal Potiorek thought the archduke and the duchess, seated opposite him, had again escaped. Neither the archduke nor the duchess uttered a sound, but a moment afterward the blood spurted in great gushes from the victims' mouths and threats and it was seen that they had been mortally wounded.

Leutenant Colonel Erik Merizzi, who was wounded by the bomb in the first attack, was today pronounced out of danger. The injury sustained by Count Von Bos-Waldke, is said to be insignificant.

Gabrinovic, it was learned today, had been expelled from Sarajevo two years ago, but recently was permitted to return through the intervention of a socialist member of the Bosnian diet.

Little is known of Archduke Karl Francis Joseph's political leanings, but it is supposed that with the disappearance of such a strong personality Austria may soon enter upon a period of greater quietude than she would have experienced under Archduke Francis Ferdinand.

VILLA AND ARMY AT TORREON.
General's March to Mexico City Blocked by Lack of Ammunition.

EL PASO, Texas, June 28.—Lack of ammunition has blocked General Villa's march toward Mexico City. Villa, fresh from his victory last week at Zuercher, has returned to Torreon, bringing his entire army with him.

The relations of the northern zone commander with General Carranza, in the opinion of agents here today, unquestionably caused the abandonment of the campaign. The much discussed Carranza-Villa estrangement has reached a breaking point, they asserted, in that the Constitutional commander-in-chief has declined to allow Villa to import cartridges and shells through the port of Tampico, the only entryway for munitions which the revolutionists may use, as the border still is closed to them by the embargo of the United States. News of Villa's return north yesterday was regarded by both factions here as ominous.

VANITIE PULLS AWAY FROM THE DEFIANCE.

Immense Sail Spread Gives Her
Quite a Long Lead.

Rounds the First Mark Seven Minutes
Ahead and Gaining.

LIARCHMONT, N. Y., June 28.—The Vanitie and Defiance raced today in another tuning-up contest, preparatory to the selection of a defender of the America's cup. Their rival, the Reco-huto was out of it, laid up for repairs.

In a thick fog which shut in from seaward the boats crossed the line in the following order: Vanitie 1:00:20, Defiance 1:00:21. The first leg was a reach across the Sound to a point off Oak Neck, thence to a buoy off Greenwich, thence to the finish line, the triangular course to be sailed twice around. The wind was very light at the start and the Vanitie, with her immense spread of sail, drew out quite a lead. The wind began to come in puffs out of the northwest at 1:30 and the Defiance, catching this change of air, first, gained her boom to starboard. A few minutes later the Vanitie caught the change in the wind and also gained. The Vanitie was about five minutes in the lead at this time.

The yachts rounded the first mark in the following order: Vanitie 1:55:01, Defiance 2:02:18. The official starting time was: Defiance 1:00:20, Vanitie 1:00:21.

It was figured out that the Vanitie would allow the Defiance 5 minutes and 18 seconds over today's course of 29 1/2 miles.

FLETCHER GREETED BY WILSON.
Rear Admiral Report to Daniels on Return from Vera Cruz.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Rear Admiral Fletcher reported to Secretary Daniels today on his return from Vera Cruz and was later received by President Wilson. The admiral takes command of the Atlantic fleet, succeeding Rear Admiral Badger, August 1. Admiral Fletcher was warmly greeted by President Wilson, who told him he greatly admired his conduct at Vera Cruz and the conduct of all the officers and men under him.

THE NEBRASKA AT BOSTON.
Vera Cruz in Excellent Condition Since American Occupation.

BOSTON, June 28.—Battleship Nebraska arrived from Vera Cruz today. Three civilians, William Kerr, a business man of Minneapolis, and two newspaper men were on board. They said that since the American occupation Vera Cruz has been in excellent order and that sanitary regulations were so strict that any serious epidemic seemed impossible.

WASHINGTON OFFICIALS QUIET.
American Minister Williams Forwarding Report on Albania.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—George Fred Williams, American minister to Greece, cabled the State Department today that he was forwarding by mail the full text of his statement on the Albanian situation. While awaiting the minister's own account of his public statement, officials here declined to comment upon his utterances as reported in news despatches.

REGARDING RESIGNATION.

A DIFFICULT SITUATION.
Wilson Says the San Dominican Situation is Very Muddled.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—"Very muddled" was the characterization applied to the San Dominican situation today by President Wilson. He said that it was difficult to know what to do in the Dominican republic, because of the many elements entering into the situation. He received word of the firing by an American gunboat to stop a bombardment by the Federal troops, but did not disclose what he expects to do finally.

ACTUAL RE-BUILDING PREPARATIONS BEGUN.

Stories of Fraud in Connection With Relief Work.

Old Colony Trust Company of Boston
Awarded Bid for Loan of $100,000.

SALEM, Mass., June 29.—Actual work in preparation for the re-building of the great area swept by fire last Thursday was begun today when contractors and architects arrived to look over the ground and make plans for new structures. General approval had been expressed by manufacturers and real estate owners of the plan to give employment so far as possible in the re-construction work to those who lost their homes and working places in the conflagration. Chilly weather and mist continued today and in the early morning a heavy shower drenched the camp where the homeless are sheltered. The camp sites, however, are well drained, and little water entered the tents.

An contrast to the secret session of Saturday, today's meeting of the relief committee was open to the public. Frank F. Cutting of Waltham was appointed civilian director of the general relief work with special authority over the movement of food supplies. He will organize a civilian force, which will take over as soon as possible all relief now being administered by the military authorities. It was decided to keep the militia here for some time longer, although the force will be reduced as rapidly as possible. Four companies of the Ninth regiment left the city today.

Stories of fraud in connection with the relief work were told at the meeting. Adjutant General Cole reported that cases had been discovered in which bread and other food, given supposedly to fire sufferers, were taken in large quantities and placed on sale in stores there.

Mrs. Holburn, chairman of the committee on clothing, said that numerous instances of "repentance" had been uncovered. Many persons, she said, had received two and three outfits of clothing which were later placed on sale.

The food committee reported that it had been decided to reduce the individual ration by one-half, because it was thought the people were getting more than was necessary.

Bids for a loan of $100,000 in anticipation of taxes were opened by the city council today and the loan was awarded to the Old Colony Trust Company of Boston at 2½ per cent, said to be the lowest known rate for any municipality recently. The Old Colony bid was submitted since the fire and was taken by financial men to indicate that the credit of the city had not been impaired by the disaster. The council appropriated $15,000 for the temporary housing of refugees.

Plans were formulated for supplying work for men at the various relief camps. As many as possible will be employed at wages of $3 a day.

THE VANITIE WINS EASILY.

Yacht Takes Vanderbilt Cup—Resolute Preparing for Final Races.

With the Resolute out of the racing Saturday, the Vanitie won easily from the Defiance off Oyster Bay, by 13 minutes 5 seconds elapsed or 7 minutes 42 seconds corrected time. The Vanitie, being second today and first Saturday, took the cup given by Commodore Harold S. Vanderbilt of the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club.

The start was at 1:15:05 for the Defiance, 1:45:11 for the Vanitie; the finish 5:40:37 for the Vanitie, 5:53:29 for the Defiance; the elapsed times for the Vanitie, 4:38:14 and the corrected time for the Defiance, 4:53:03.

The Vanitie, being second today and first Saturday, took the cup given by Commodore Harold S. Vanderbilt of the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club.

Today the yachts have "at Larchmont the second contest for the cups given by Vice Commodore F. C. Fletcher. The first race was won by the Vanitie. The third was the next Saturday, but this date has been cancelled and it is possible that the two yachts may cover this in a special match Tuesday or Wednesday.

The preliminary season is over and the owners are anxious to haul out and prepare for the regular racing which will count, starting off Breton's reef lightship July 1 for the Eastern Yacht Club prize.

The Resolute, in tow of the Cape Cod, arrived in the harbor early Sunday morning and anchored in Breton's reef lightship anchorage.

INDIAN LAWN FETE.

Original Outdoor Entertainment for Benefit of Historical Society.

One of the most original outdoor fete yet arranged for the season is that set for July 18, on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. Gillespie, formerly the residence of Mrs. John Carter Brown. The affair, termed an Indian lawn fete, will be given for the benefit of the Newport Historical Society, for the purpose of widening the scope of the institution, increasing its membership and providing additional accommodations for the valuable collections.

The lawn at Mrs. Gillespie's is particularly well adapted for such an exhibition, and in addition to the many and varied games to be played there will be grotesque dancing by members of the summer colony, arranged by Mrs. Lorrillard Spencer, Jr. The following is the list of patronesses to date: Mrs. J. Fred Peterson, Mrs. E. Hayward Perry, Miss Agnes Storey, Mrs. Daniel B. Pearing, Miss Elizabeth H. Clark, Mrs. Charles S. Whitman, Mrs. A. Winsor Weld, Mrs. William H. Burdum, Miss Ellen F. 395 Roofs put in during last nine years. Every roof has one year's cure. Stone, Slate, Shingles, Copper and Tin Roofs were torn off and damaged in last two heavy gales. The only damage on 35 Century Slate Roofs were two ridge rolls blown off and slight leak in two other roofs. Convention Hall at Beach stood recent gales without a crack or started. Any skilled mechanic can put them on. Be sure you purchase Century Asbestos Slates.

A SUSPICIOUS PERSON.
Man Suspected of Being the Clothes Line Ripper Nabbed by the Police.

Saturday night—or really, Sunday morning—Inspector Tobin and Officer Palmer caught Jules de Motta, who is suspected of being the clothes line ripper for whom the police have been looking so long. They had been hiding for some time and finally de Motta came into their back yard. Then he was off again on the wings of the night, it seemed—but Officer Palmer can go some and they nabbed him. Also, they have two pairs of stockings, a blue pair of men's and a black pair of boys' style, and would like to find the owners. They were probably taken from some yard. De Motta was arraigned on the charge of being a suspicious person and is held for trial Tuesday.

A man for profane cursing was placed in the custody of the probation officer. A prisoner of Saturday morning was picked up Saturday afternoon, talking to things inanimate on Broadway. He needed care and will have it for five days in the Marlborough Street Jail. This morning a man paid $12.50 for assault. Thirteen sent in a couple, who paid fines Sunday morning.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.
The Newport Art Association at its annual meeting Saturday afternoon elected the following officers:
President—Walter Coles Cabell.
Secretary—Mrs. Maud Howe Elliott.
Treasurer—Charles Biehl.
Members of Council—Mrs. John W. Burgess, John Elliott, William Sargent, Kendall, representing the artist members; Rev. John B. Duman, Mrs. Livingston Hunt, Harford W. H. Powell, representing the associate members.

ARRIVAL OF THE BOXER.
A station ship is again present to fly the flag of the senior officers of the Naval Station, Narragansett Bay. Brig Boxer arrived from Annapolis Saturday afternoon in tow of tug USS, and is tied up at the wharf where the Constellation formerly lay, going into commission at once. The little craft was built to instruct the apprentice seamen in handling sailing craft and for the past few years has been at Annapolis for the cadets.

A JUNE DREAM.

(Boston Transcript.)
Speed from the crowded city
With its dust and noise and heat,
Back to the quiet country
Where the air is cool and sweet,
Back to the little village,
Back to the old home ground—
That's what I long to be doing
When the month of June comes round.
Wander down to the meadow,
Pick daisies along the way,
Watch the bees in the orchard,
Sing and be glad all day,
Drink from the spring on the mountain,
With its water cool and clear—
That's what I long to be doing
When the month of June is here.
Rest and be friendly with nature,
Roam in the woodlands deep,
Fish in the sparkling waters,
Where the sunbeams dance and leap,
Watch with the stars at midnight,
Row 'neath the silent moon—
That's what I long to be doing
Now, in the month of June.
Forget, in the scent of the roses,
The din of the city street;
Forget, in the deep, cool grasses,
The dragging of weary feet;
Gather memories of sunshine and
Sweetness,
To gladden my heart through the
year—
That's what I long to be doing
While the month of June is here.

FANCIES.
I met her in a bathing suit:
Somewhere, I've never felt the same.
She'd always seemed so plump and
I met her in her bathing suit,
Returning from a dip in the sea.
And then the disfigurement came!
I met her in her bathing suit—
Somewhere, I've never felt the same!

HEALTH EDUCATION.

The Indiana health authorities asked the legislature for $5,000 for printing and distributing a book of instructions to mothers regarding the care of their infants. It received only half that amount, and wouldn't have had that if the legislature had not been reminded that it had just appropriated a larger sum for the suppression of hog cholera. With the reduced appropriation the book of instructions will not be sent to all mothers, but to those who have just become mothers of their first babies.

If we ought to give the devil, even his due, we should do no less for a legislature, the constant target for every sort of ridicule and abuse. We do not seriously believe the Indiana Assembly regarded the health of hogs as more important than that of babies, but it is notorious that hogs do not know how to avoid cholera and it is necessary to instruct their owners. It is, on the other hand, a common impression, and was until lately a universal assumption, that mothers know by intuition or by the instruction imparted to them by their own mothers, how to care for their babies.

Nearly all grandmothers are confident that they know all about babies—haven't they raised 'em?—and many mothers are sure they need no instruction. The truth is that knowledge of how to care for the baby doesn't come with the baby, and while grandmothers know a lot, many things have been found out since she reared her last child in the light of her experience with her first. This is an age of research and scientific information and many of the young mothers are glad to be taught how to give their babies a good start in life.

This book of instruction may not teach how Indiana babies are to be brought up to write "best sellers," but it tells the mothers many useful things about keeping the baby well and feeding him so that he will have a good start, with the prospect of having a sound mind in a sound body. The Hoosier example is worth following elsewhere.

A NEW COLLEGE CURRICULUM.

President Alexander Meiklejohn of Amherst, formerly dean of Brown University, has caused much discussion among college men all over the country by his recommendation of a radical re-adjustment of the curriculum for such institutions. He has had long experience in the educational field and most of it has been in New England. Therefore his suggestions have much weight, even though they may be as in this case, radical in their nature and involving a wide change from existing conditions. Moreover, it is understood that he was called to the presidency of Amherst largely because of his unique ideas regarding the field which a comparatively small college like that should try to occupy. In contrast to the position to which larger universities aspire. During his term at the head of the institution Dr. Meiklejohn has apparently been giving much consideration to this matter and developing on the ground the ideas which he had previously formulated and expressed in a general way. He has now proposed a course of study for the four years at the college which has aroused the interest of educators everywhere.

The Amherst president has a strong opinion of his own as to the meaning of the term, an educated man, and the aim which a college of liberal education should have, and this opinion has been expressed in the following words: "The liberal college has a definite intellectual mission and it has no right to give its degrees unless that mission has been achieved. It is not enough that a student know a little of everything; so far as it is possible, he should be given a knowledge of the world, so extensive and so unified that by means of it he may get a fair understanding of human experience. It is not enough that he should have studied one subject three years; he should go into one field and learn how thinking is done in that field. I would define the intellectual education as one in which the student brings a unified interpretation of the world to bear on the problems of human experience, and who also appreciates how thought has achieved those results which have made his interpretation possible."

Dr. Meiklejohn has presented as a means of carrying out his idea concerning the best sort of education for a small college to offer to its students a curriculum conspicuous by its continuity of subjects from year to year and its inclusiveness. It offers a series of subjects in such relation that each as it is treated leads up to those which are to follow, so that there is no break of thought and study and no lack of cohesiveness in the entire course. At the same time it is, as President Meiklejohn himself says, intended to be representative of the system of human knowledge as a whole.

The most radical feature in this curriculum is a new course for Freshmen, designed as a general introduction to all the other studies of the four years and to show the relations of all these other subjects to each other and to the general line of education. This is exceedingly broad in its scope and general in its nature, as it is the belief of President Meiklejohn that the exact nature must be determined by the teacher who gives it. It is called in his outline a course in "social and economic institutions," and that is surely broad and inclusive enough to cover almost any line of instruction of a general nature as a foundation for future study which any professor may desire to give or may consider essential.

The faculty and trustees of Amherst have approved this outline of a new curriculum and the college world will watch with interest its development and the results of the rather radical changes involved. If it proves successful it is practically certain that it will lead to a new departure all over the country in the character of the educational offerings of small colleges. It is expected that one result will be what President Meiklejohn believes to be most desirable, a separation by quite marked lines between the small college of purely liberal education and the university where advanced vocational training is provided. Such a separation seems advisable, and that will be one feature of the new plan which will be watched with special interest. Dr. Meiklejohn has set a new pace, and apparently in a wise direction.

The imports of Argentine corn for 10 months have been about 9,000,000 bushels. As this is not more than one third of one per cent of a crop in this country, it is not likely to have affected the domestic production or prices. As a matter of fact, corn is nine or ten cents higher now than a year ago.

Apart from the actual corn imported, there has been in Chicago some speculation in Argentine "futures." This has a tendency to worry the farmers, who are afraid they are going to be brought into competition with "Chinese cheap labor," or something of that sort. The nervousness of the farmers of course reacts instantly upon the President and the Secretary of Commerce and the leading Democrats in Congress, and also punishment is predicted by the Secretary and by Mr. Rainey, a Democratic member from Chicago, if there is any more of this.

The agricultural dread of futures is almost entirely a nightmare. If the selling of imaginary grain has a tendency to depress the price of the actual article, the buying of it must have a tendency to increase the price. The trading must neutralize the two sides, unless some persons are disposed and able to sell for the purpose of sending prices down and keeping them down. They cannot accomplish this without having the grain to deliver, and the act of securing the grain sends the price up again.

However, the administration is not in very good odor in business circles and feels obliged to fight for its popularity among the farmers, who are the predominant element in the South and West. So we are likely to have the administration meddling with business in a new spot. It can hardly be said to have improved business by its various efforts to enforce the "new liberty" upon men of affairs, and it is to be feared that if it shall suppress trading in Argentine corn the results will not be more satisfactory than other efforts in this and foreign countries to put a stop to speculation by law.

It is quite a remarkable discovery, made by a committee of the League of Improvement Societies of Rhode Island, that in a tour of inspection of the swamps in Providence, Barrington, Nayatt, North Providence and Cranston not a single infestation of mosquito larvae could be found, and the plan of testing the effect of oil on the larvae was abandoned because there were no signs of mosquitoes anywhere. When the league started its campaign, three or four years ago, billions of mosquito larvae were found in the swamps in Providence alone. Is there any similar movement in this section of the state?

tion of a part of the walk, but there is question as to who is responsible. It is well to have the matter settled.

A new and better Salem is the cry of the fire-afflicted city before the ruins have even cooled. The manufacturing plants say they will not go elsewhere, better buildings, more compactly grouped and efficiently planned, are promised. Less inflammable construction is advocated, for purposes of economy in insurance rates and upkeep.

Portsmouth acts promptly when it is evident that increased school facilities are necessary, proposing to have its new building ready by January 1. Middletown cannot agree on a location, and Newport is delayed in its plans for a new building which the taxpayers approved in December last.

It seems like a good guess that the doctors who advise Roosevelt to remain quiet for four months—until the campaign is over—are not active members of the Progressive party.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

Three Fundamental Principles of a Policy, Which is Not a Law.

[Theodore S. Woolsey, in North American Review.]

The Monroe Doctrine in its 99 years of life has been so overlaid with comment and so modified and enlarged in development that we are apt to lose sight of its real and fundamental character. By studying its essential nature, by appreciating upon what it is founded and how it is limited, perhaps we may form a juster sense of its usefulness, its meaning, its legality. But before all and throughout all we must keep in mind that it is a policy, not a law, municipal or international. The distinction between policy and law are wide and vital; here are certain of them.

A nation's policy is unilateral. Though affecting other states, it is formed without their consent; it may therefore be changed without reference to their wishes. Germany has adopted a naval program—that is, a policy of building up an important navy, without consulting Great Britain. The United States determined to dig a Panama canal itself, without getting the consent of other commercial powers except that of England, which had been given a veto of such action by treaty.

There are now three fundamental principles which characterize the policy of President Monroe as it was and as it is. For the sake of coherence and completeness they are stated together here and then examined separately.

1. The Monroe Doctrine was a statement of policy, originated and maintained by reason of self-interest, not of altruism. 2. It was justifiable by reason of the right of self-defense (which is a recognized principle of international law). 3. It called no new rights into being, therefore, whenever it oversteps the principle of self-defense, reasonably interpreted, it right disappears and the policy is questionable because it then violates the rights of others.

The Monroe Doctrine this is to be regarded from a two-fold point of view: As a policy meaning and accomplishing what other states submit to, and what seems to the United States useful; As a measure of self-defense, which cannot be pushed beyond the facts calling for self-defense and yet be legally justifiable.

PORTSMOUTH.

Appropriation for a New School House Voted at Special Town Meeting.

Saturday evening about 60 qualified electors convened at the town hall in a special town meeting, called to reconsider a vote passed at the financial town meeting May 9, to convert the town hall into rooms suitable for a grammar school, also to consider a site and the building of a new structure for a grammar school, and the abatement of certain taxes. At present the schools of Portsmouth seem to be in a congested condition, to be relieved only by the building of a new structure suitable to accommodate a large number of pupils. A few years ago the town found itself in practically the same condition, and built on an old site a three-room school building which would accommodate about 150 scholars. The committee rejoiced in the fact that it had a building suitable to relieve the congestion of the schools at that time and perhaps sufficient to accommodate all the increase for many years to come. Only six years have elapsed and the three-room building is filled to its utmost capacity, necessitating immediate action where by all the children may have suitable quarters.

The meeting was called to order at 7:45 by Moderator Benjamin Earl Anthony, with Nova Clerk George H. Hicks acting as clerk.
It was voted, without discussion, to rescind from the vote passed at the financial town meeting, concerning the changing of the town hall into a grammar school.

A motion was made that $7,000 be appropriated for a new school building, without the land, but this was lost. It was then voted that a two-room building be erected in the vicinity of the town hall, also that John R. Coggeshall, John L. Burden and Michael J. Murphy be a committee to secure a suitable location and to cause to be erected such a building. The sum of $10,000 was appropriated for the town house and its lot, the vote standing 27 to 11. The committee was directed to have the building fully completed by January 1, 1915.

It was also voted that all of a certain list of unpaid taxes presented by the town house be abated, with the exception of that assessed against Theophilus Caron and Manuel F. Silva.

The meeting adjourned about 8:45.
Mr. Arthur S. Phillips has recently moved his law office to the new building near Bristol Ferry, building a new piazza extending from the ends of the two, along the entire front, connecting them. It is rumored that the cottages are rented to Mr. Thurston of Fall River.

"Willow Brook," managed by Miss Jane Brown, opened for the season last week. Saturday a luncheon was served to a party from Providence.

Mr. Walter Townley of Brooklyn was guest of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Ralph H. Freeborn, last week.

Mrs. C. Woodman Chase has as guest at home, Miss Hannah Peabody of Newport.

Mrs. Harrison Peckham entertained recently in honor of the birthday of her little daughter Ruth. Refreshments were served on the lawn and piazza.

Mrs. Samuel Howland and her two daughters, Dorothy and Esther, of Fall River, have been visiting Miss Mary Hall on Sprague street, returning to their home Sunday.

Miss Kate L. Durfee is guest for the week at the home of Mrs. J. H. Durfee.

Rev. Charles D. Burrows of Jamestown Officers for Rev. Mr. Goodman.

Rev. Charles D. Burrows of St. Matthew's Church, Jamestown, has officiated at the Church of the Holy Cross the past two Sunday afternoons and will continue to conduct the services until the return of the rector, Rev. F. W. Goodman. As St. Mary's is closed for the present, a number from that parish are attending the services at the Church of the Holy Cross. Rev. Mr. Goodman was able to walk about the grounds at St. Mary's rectory for a short time Sunday and is gaining slowly.

Rev. J. P. Conover was in charge of the services at the Berkeley Memorial Chapel Sunday morning being assisted by Rev. John B. Duman. Special prayers were offered for the Salem sufferers. The session of the Sunday School will be discontinued during July and August.

The floral display at the Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday afternoon included a profusion and variety of roses, carnations, lilies, gladioli, Peonies, and also Mr. Fred P. Webster's prize-winning sweet peas, which were attractively arranged. The Epworth League cabinet held a special meeting at the close of the service, to appoint committees for the lawn party at the church July 29. The Sunday School picnic will be held at "Edgemoor-in-the-Woods" August 4.

Miss Ardiella Peckham, a student at the Sargent School for Physical Culture in Cambridge, Mass., and Miss Mary Smith, who has been teaching at Harrington the past year, are at home for the summer vacation.

CANDY STAND WAS MOVED.

Nathan David Sues Sullivan, Tobin and Bradley for Trespass.

Decree Entered, in Superior Court, Dissolving the Lappin Company.

The June session of the superior court was resumed, after a week's intermission, at 11:30 this morning. Judge Barrows presided.

Mr. Levy, counsel for defendant, presented a stipulation that the case of the New England Iron Works Company vs. Newport Iron Foundry & Machine Company be entered settled. Judge Barrows was the attorney for plaintiff.

Attorney General Phillips asked for sentence of Lawrence Flinn, long ago convicted of seduction, the edge being come down from the supreme court, which over-ruled the motion for new trial.

Flinn appeared and Mr. Nolan, his attorney, asked for delay until October. He said defendant is working and it is difficult to fill his place. The case has dragged along because Judge Lee, who tried the case, died before the record of evidence was approved by him. Mr. Phillips did not object, but desired it understood that sentence will be pronounced the first day of the October session. It was so ordered.

Mr. Levy called up the petition to dissolve the Lappin Company, which has sold all its property to the Doran Company. Lawrence W. Coudry testified. Decree was entered, granting the petition.

The case of Nathan David vs. Jeremiah K. Sullivan et al., was then given to a jury. Mr. Burdick appearing for plaintiff and Messrs. Nolan and Harvey for defendants, of whom there were three. Messrs. Sullivan, Matthew D. Tobin and Harry Bradley. It was action for trespass, October 10, 1909.

The following jurors were called: Henry Sprague, New Shoreham; Peleg Wilcox, Tiverton; Michael Dymna, Newport; Edward M. Pezka, Middletown; Patrick McGrath, Free Priest; James McCarthy, Edward P. Gosling, Joseph Gibson, John Glynn, Newport; Frank W. Cassidy, Tiverton; William Buehler, Newport.

Mr. Gosling had heard so much of the case that he was excused and Henry D. Root of Newport was called. He is a little deaf but thought he could hear from a front seat. Messrs. McGrath, McCarthy and Gibson were challenged and Frank P. Stoddard, Alfred A. Cary and Joseph P. Hally of Newport were called. Messrs. Gladding and Sprague were challenged and James Robertson and William P. Kelly were called. Mr. Kelly, being a car conductor, was excused. Joseph C. Quirk of Little Compton was called. Mr. Wilcox was excused and Thomas J. Gibson of Newport was called. This completed the panel and Juror Quirk was appointed foreman. Spare jurors were excused until 9:30 a. m. Tuesday.

Mr. Burdick explained the case, which is an old one. Mr. David was a tenant of the premises on the corner of Franklin and Spring streets. He had the candy stand at the south of the corner building and closed it for the season, leaving in it a large amount of stock. October 10, 1909, he visited it twice and found it all right. Later he received information which caused him to go there and found the stand had been moved to the south of the "Broadway Lunch Wagon" and had been placed on the front of the lot. He found his place wrecked and his goods and private papers scattered all about and in the street. He sued the Old Colony Street Railway Company, and at the trial Mr. Sullivan admitted that he had the moving, for the other two defendants.

Clerk Harvey produced the record of the case against the street railway company. Plaintiff took the stand, telling a story similar to that in the trial of the former case. He saw Mr. Tobin there and told him there was not room for the lunch wagon. Mr. Tobin said there would be. Later that day he found the wagon on the land, and everything belonging to his own place in a mess. "The kids" were scattering his post cards and everything else all over Franklin and Spring streets. His large show cases were smashed. His front was hit by the lunch wagon, which occupied the whole of the lot, so that there was no passing to the rear of it.

Defendants came to see him and said they did it and were willing to settle with him. (The part about settling was stricken out.) He said the transfer station for the cars. He also lost his tenants for the corner building by the lunch wagon being there.

Plaintiff read a long list of contents of his stand, including more than 5,000 post cards, cigars, etc. He said $15 for his soda fountain. The show cases were worth $25. The total value of contents was $328.39 and that of the building $75; it cost $100. All his stock is figured at wholesale price.

The wagon was there about two years, during which time he was never able to go by it to the rear of the lot, or to use his building again. He hired by the year and paid monthly.

In cross-examination Mr. Nolan asked about the letting of the premises. He was to pay $30 for the lot for a year. Then he took the house, the whole being $180 a year.

He sublet the tenement for $180, thus having the lot rent free. He put up his stand in 1906. It was about 12 by 6 feet, and 10 feet high, wired and painted. The lumber was the best—better than plan; he couldn't say what kind of wood it was. Could not tell what the lumber cost. The stand was painted every year. It cost $100; he allowed $35 for 3 years wear and tear.

TENNIS AT THE CASINO.

Two Rounds Played in Women's Subscription Handicap Singles.

A women's subscription handicap singles in lawn tennis was started at the Casino this morning, with the following results:

In the first round Miss Mildred Rivers defeated Mrs. Lawrence E. Gillespie, by default; Mrs. Lorillard Spencer, Jr. beat Mrs. Stuart Duncan, 6-4, 7-5; Miss Frederika Payne won over Miss Anita Gravesen, 6-3, 8-4; and Mrs. John Burdick triumphed over Miss Eleanor M. Harrington, 7-5.

The second set being won by default. In the second round Miss Margaret H. Busk won over Miss Mimi Scott, 6-3, 6-4, and Mrs. Howard G. Cushing defeated Miss Edna Barker, 7-5, 6-7.

TWO SUNDAY STILLS.

Combination 1 had two practice runs Sunday. The first came at 3:49, when a still called the firemen to the corner of Old Beach road and Tew's court, the West estate, where there had been a chimney fire, but there was nothing to do.

At 5:39 the machine was called to the end of Long wharf, where there had been a gasoline fire, though it was there no longer. The big automobile of S. A. Williams was pulled for New York and the chauffeur drew about a quart of gasoline left in the machine, and let it run on the ground. Then the car was pushed along to the platform and some one lighted a match and threw it to the ground near where the gasoline had been allowed to run. There was a lively fire for a short time, and it was feared the shed would catch, but it did not really amount to anything.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mr. George H. Sherman is visiting in Boston and New York.

—Mrs. Ray Goff with her young son has gone to Atlanta, Ga., to visit her parents.

—Mrs. Augustus Kountz and Mrs. Karl W. North of New York are at the Muenchinger-King.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Chase of Washington, sister of Mr. J. B. P. Smith, arrived Sunday for the season.

—Mr. J. Frank Tooker has a story, "The Dark Night," in the Century. The scene is laid on Conanicut Island.

—Steamer Warwick brought down the excursion of Grace Church, Providence, today, 1,400. Steamer Sagamore was also here with an excursion party.

—The annual lawn party for the benefit of the children's ward at the Newport Hospital will be held on the hospital grounds Thursday afternoon, July 23.

—Mrs. James Herbert Shaw and her daughter, Mary Elizabeth, of Syracuse N. Y., are visiting Mrs. Shaw's sister, Mrs. George D. Bailey, on Elliott place.

—Messrs. Andrews & Weaver have rented for the summer, to Paulding Roadside of New York, the cottage belonging to John Caldwell, on Bellevue avenue.

—Mrs. John J. Mahoney of Fort Adams has returned from a trip to Springfield, Mass., after having attended the wedding of her sister, as patron of honor.

—Mayor Doyle has been invited to review the parade after the drill of the apprentices at the Training Station Tuesday afternoon in connection with the visit of the Worcester Board of Trade.

—Mrs. Wetherill's power boat Chipper and Father Doyle's little power boat Florence have been launched from Williams & Manchester's and Mr. Mallinckrodt's power boat Polyan was taken to the freight yard to be shipped to Lake George.

—Torpedo boat destroyer McDougal and a little trouble at Bradford last week and as a result her propellers were bent and broken. The damage was done while going alongside the dock to take on oil. She left this morning for repairs.

—The smell of illuminating gas in the trench opened by the Providence line on Broadway for the repair of the tracks was so great Saturday that the formen says he was obliged to shift the men frequently. This is the only section where the lies have rolled.

—Registers at the Casino include Rutherford O. Ainslie of Oak Park, Ill.; George F. Kelley of Providence; Wayne Goodrich of Boston; J. Gordon Douglas, W. Earl Dodge, Richard Van Wyck, Prince Troubetzkoy and Eugene S. Reynold of New York; and Lester Leland of Boston.

—The Vision, a missionary pageant, was repeated at the Second Baptist Church Sunday evening by the half-hundred members of the half-hundred members of the Sunday School named in the News last week. A party of men from the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association attended the service.

—Mr. Oscar S. Adler the solo violinist, arrived from New York this morning and will assume the leadership of the beach orchestra this evening. He will be here for the season. He will introduce the new swing of the steps and with which he has made a great name for himself. He is at the Aquidneck.

—It is expected that Newport will be largely represented at the annual meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs at Fruit Hill, Providence, Wednesday. Mrs. David T. Pinner is state director from this city and the Current Topics Club will be represented by Mrs. E. O. Riggs and Mrs. Benjamin P. Thurston. Other members of the club may also attend.

—Sunday was a rather chilly day. It threatened rain all day, and rained at times just enough to make the sea go. The total rain gauge was only .21 of an inch. This made the total for the month, and since the 12th, just 1.04 inches. The rain, however, did a great deal of good, as the grass and other things showed.

—Keeper William J. Christenson, at Gooseberry Island, went to the rescue of Police Officer Casey Sunday morning, while the latter was on a fishing expedition in a skiff off the island. The rescue was rather choppy and the skiff was swamped. This fact was observed and shared by both Christenson and his son, and both shoved off in boats to the rescue, but the father was the first to arrive.

—Again today crushed stone was hauled to outer Broadway faster than it could be spread, and in consequence the cars were more or less delayed. Good progress is consequently being made in the filling between the tracks. Due to the dampness, it was not possible to take the asphalt plant and put on the surfacing, so the plant was moved from Redwau Avenue farther down Broadway, where it will be more handy to the work now to be done.

ARRANGED FOR THE FOURTH.

Prizes For Athletic and Field Sports and Swimming Contests.

Biggest Series For the Celebration Which Newport Has Had For Many Years.

Alderman Kirby of the sub-committee of the athletic committee on the city's Fourth of July celebration has arranged a program of athletic and field sports and swimming contests, which will comprise the biggest series Newport has had for many years on the Fourth.

Alderman Kirby will be in charge, with Physical Director Slocum of the Young Men's Christian Association as his chief assistant. The athletic and field events will be held at Morton park, beginning at 2 o'clock, and will include 100-yard dash, sack race, 800-yard dash, running high jump, pole vault, mile relay race for teams of four men each, and tug of war. The different events will be for the official Newport championships and the prizes will be as follows:

100-yard dash—1, pair of Spaulding spiked running shoes; 2, silk suit; 3, safety razor.

Sack race—1, white flannel outfit (trousers); 2, $3 straw hat; 3, necktie.

Running high jump—1, rawhide suit case; 2, rubber-soled outfit shoes; 3, pocketbook.

880-yard dash—1, gold water canteen; 2, watch fob; 3, pair gold cuff links.

Pole vault—1, $7 sweater; 2, long-sleeved jersey; 3, running suit.

Relay race—Medals for each man on winning team.

Tug of war—Banner for winning team. It is hoped to secure teams of 25 men each from the Torpedo Station and Post Adams for this event.

At 4:30 o'clock there will be off Battery park, a cutter race by crews from the Training Station and a program of swimming events. The latter will include 100-yard dash for men and boys, the prizes being a bath robe, a silk umbrella and a bathing suit; 100-yard dash for women and girls, with a woman's bathing suit, a silk parasol and a pair of silk gloves as prizes, and mile swim, the big event of the day.

ALL OUT FOR A WET TIME.

Apprentice Seamen Have Cork Races and Hear a Talk on Vera Cruz.

"All out for a wet time" was the cry at the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association Saturday afternoon, and the apprentice seamen in the building responded by adjourning to the swimming pool. After much discussion, not unmixed with splashing water, cork races were decided upon as the "piece-de-resistance." The races were held, and the statistics are as follows: A relay race, won by Tribert; second, Roberts; third, Fay.

At 7:30 a social was held, at which E. R. Hartung, seaman on the Utah, gave a talk on the conditions in Vera Cruz. His talk was well held, and the capture of the city, and as he has been stationed there until recently, his talk was interesting, and was received with hearty approval by his audience. Indian wrestling followed, S. C. Skiff winning the contest by throwing eight men.

Sunday morning, Secretary E. O. Andrews had charge of the service at the Naval Training Station, assisted by Mr. J. D. Sutherland, in charge of the Association's social department, who spoke. The regular song service and Bible class was omitted, owing to the capture of the city, and as he has been stationed there until recently, his talk was interesting, and was received with hearty approval by his audience. Indian wrestling followed, S. C. Skiff winning the contest by throwing eight men.

PENALTY ATTACHED JULY 10.

Tuesday Final Day for Payment of Income Tax Assessments.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Tomorrow is the final day for the payment of income tax assessments and internal revenue collectors throughout the United States are working day and night now handling the payments of corporations and individuals who have waited almost until the last moment in order to hold on to their money as long as possible. July 10 is a penalty of five per cent will be attached to unpaid assessments and for every additional month of delay the penalty will be one per cent. This penalty cannot be waived by the Secretary of the Treasury nor by any Treasury Department official and will be imposed in all cases excepting the estates of insane, deceased or insolvent persons.

For the present the commissioner of internal revenue is giving no attention to fraudulent returns, although much information is reaching the department every day concerning persons who are trying to dodge the income tax. As soon as the receipts from honest returns have been disposed of the commissioner and his assistants will begin their investigation of the dodgers.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mr. Walter Dennis is visiting in New Bedford.

—The Rosa rugosa at King Park are looking fine just now.

—Dr. A. W. K. Akerley of Danville, Va., is guest of his sister, Miss Mary K. Akerley.

—Mrs. J. S. Jones and family have arrived from White Plains, N. Y., for the summer.

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. C. Taylor left Sunday on steam yacht Wanderer for New York.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. Gordon Douglas have arrived at the Whitney Warren cottage for the season.

—Mr. and Mrs. Eugene S. Reynal have arrived at the Phoenix cottage, "Hilltop," for the summer.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Buttermore of Central Falls spent Sunday with Mr. Thomas E. Hunt on Ann street.

—Lieutenant Commander Leigh C. Palmer arrived Sunday and at once assumed command of the destroyer Macdonough.

—"Efficient Sunday School Management," a book for school executives, has just been published by Rev. J. J. Denison of Lynn, formerly of Newport.

—C. H. Wrightington has rented for Mrs. Harold Barr her furnished house at 2 Griswold place for the summer season.

—Mr. Grafton D. Cushing, speaker of the Massachusetts house of representatives, is guest of his brother, Mr. Howard G. Cushing, at "The Lodge."

—Prince Paul Troubetzky, a well known Russian portrait painter, is guest of Mr. Joseph Lewis McMillan of the Russian embassy at the Herick cottage.

—A number went from here to Salem Sunday to see the fire ruins and but for the rain more would have gone. Some went by train and others by automobile.

—Mrs. William H. Sands is confined to her room. Third street with a fractured rib, which she received from a fall down a flight of stairs last week.

—Dr. and Mrs. Charles D. Easton will have as guests over July 1 Mrs. Easton's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Frank K. Hays of New York, and her grandfather and grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus C. Bechstein of New Rochelle, N. Y.

—Mr. and Mrs. John R. Austin, their son, Merton, Miss Bessie E. Stanhope and Mrs. Franklin A. Mander returned this morning from a week-end automobile trip to Whitman, Mass., where they were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bryant, parents of Mrs. Mander.

—Robert Lindsey Murray, the young Californian whose sensational tennis has marked him as a likely possibility for the Davis Cup team, has just recovered from his lame shoulder that he has gone to Wilmington, Del., where he will play in the Delaware State championship tournament, which begins Tuesday.

—The first real indication of a Fourth of July celebration appeared Saturday, when a shopkeeper had on his sign notifying his customers that his sign will be closed "all day Saturday the 4th." This gave every one timely notice; even those accustomed to passing his store only on Saturday had a chance to know that it will not be open the next Saturday.

—Frank Morgan, who left Wednesday evening to take the physical examination for Annapolis, was back in Newport Sunday, having failed to pass the physical requirements, due to trouble with his right ear, incurred while swimming. Morgan made a quick appeal to the surgeon general, and as a result will have an immediate operation on the ear, after which he expects to enter the Academy.

—Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt and her daughter, Miss Kathleen Vanderbilt, sailed Saturday on the Mauretania from English ports for New York. On her arrival Mrs. Vanderbilt will come immediately to Newport to occupy the Gill cottage on Bellevue avenue, which has already been opened and is ready for her. Mr. E. J. Herfind is also a passenger on the Mauretania and will come to Newport to occupy "The Blinn" on his arrival.

—Lieutenant Commander E. P. Jessop has been detached from the Arkansas and ordered to command the torpedo boat destroyer Benham. Lieutenant Commander W. W. Johnson has been detached from the command of the Benham and ordered to duty in connection with fitting out the Downes, and to command that vessel when placed in commission. Lieutenant W. F. Newton has been detached from the Terry and ordered to the Cheyenne.

—Mr. Pembroke Jones brought a number of guests to Newport on steam yacht Nevada Sunday, returning to New York later in the day, after visiting the Casino, Golf Club and Bailey's beach. His guests included Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Harriman, Miss Miriam Harriman, Miss Maud Coster, Miss Mary Alexander, Miss Augusta Bishop and Messrs. Pembroke Jones, Jr., Rex Auchincloss, Allen Harriman, Don Kelley and Baxley Farr.

—At the semi-annual meeting of the Friendly Union of Sailors' Wives, held in the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association building, Mrs. F. E. CONGRESS TO RUSH BILLS.

No Obstacles Will be Thrown in the Way of Trust Legislation.

Theory Does not Fool the People and Hopes for Early Adjournment Are Not Bright.

(Washington correspondence of the News.)

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Congress is going to rush. That word has gone forth, and everybody seems agreed that no obstacles will be thrown in the way of passing the trust legislation and the appropriation bills to allow Congress to get away at the earliest possible moment. That at least is a theory of the present situation.

But it does not fool people who have watched Congressional methods and are aware that all plans for rushing business fall when there is an elaborate program ahead. It is possible that Congress may speed up a little on account of the general demand throughout the country that it pass the pending legislation and adjourn. Besides, it is the desire of all Congressmen to get into the campaign as soon as they can.

There are many of the big supply bills that are not yet finished. In conference there are the agricultural, the District of Columbia, the diplomatic and consular, the legislative, executive and judicial, the naval and the judicial, and deadlocks between the Senate and House have held these bills up for some time and promise even a larger amount of discussion. The river and harbor bill and the sundry civil bill have not yet passed. These and the general deficiency bill are likely to take considerable time before agreements can be reached in regard to them.

The rules committee of the House and the leaders have been considering a further legislative program to include the reclamation and other conservation bills, the rural credits bill and quite a number of measures which have been earnestly demanded by many members of Congress. In fact, a number of influential men have served notice that there will be no adjournment of Congress until some of these measures have had consideration. Taking everything in light the hopes for an early adjournment are not bright.

During discussion of the administration and the civil service law Senator Burton of Ohio, usually mild in his language, said he believed that President Wilson is at heart in favor of the enforcement of the civil service law, but he was reminded of a remark made by a Russian to a traveler in that country, who said, "I love the czar is an excellent kind of man, but I also think a great many things are going on that he does not know anything about."

Newspapers all over the country and periodicals have been somewhat uneasy over the prospect of an increase of second class rates of postage, but it is said that no attempt will be made at this session to increase these rates, or at least such an attempt will not be backed by the administration. Members of Congress do not care to take it up because it is not a popular matter.

Nearly everybody hears the annual story of the rapid action of the Senate in appropriating millions of dollars. The pension bill often passes the Senate as fast as it is read, and so the story reads. "The Senate passed the pension appropriation bill, carrying $170,000,000, in 175 seconds, which is at the rate of a million dollars a second." When the pension bill contains no legislation it is no uncommon thing for it to pass with that rapidity.

It was no uncommon thing several years ago to see men in the lower ranks of the army selected as brigadier generals. In fact, a number of captains and a few majors and lieutenant colonels have been jumped over a long list of superiors because the President had the right of selection. Then Congress passed a law limiting the selection of brigadier generals to men who had reached the grades of colonel and lieutenant colonel, but even that does not satisfy the Senate committee on military affairs, which confirms these officers, and a colonel who was away down on the list was held up for some time because the committee does not approve of the "jumping" which gave advanced rank to such officers as Wood, Bell, Funston, Pershing and several others.

It is seldom that any piece of legislation has left as much bitterness as the canal tolls repeal. "Most of the Democrats of the Senate," remarked Senator Walsh of Montana, "heartily wish that the canal tolls repeal had never been attempted. Probably."

SIMILAR NOT AN ISOLATED CASE.

Many Similar Cases in Newport and Vicinity.

This Newport man's story given here is not an isolated case by any means; week after week, year after year, our neighbors are telling similar good news.

Henry Vickers, 72 Spring St., Newport, says: "I had kidney trouble for years. I believe it was caused by lead poisoning and the general bad effect from handling paint, turpentine, etc. The doctor told me I had better give up painting and I finally did. I had a great deal of pain in my bladder and the kidney secretions contained sediment. I had dizzy spells and was tired and languid. The strong praise I heard other people give Doan's Kidney Pills led me to get a box. They took away the pains and cured all the other trouble with my kidneys. They strengthened and toned up my system. Some years ago I publicly endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills and I haven't changed my high opinion of them since. I still use them off and on and they always help me."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Vickers had. Foster-McBarn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

that same opinion extends to many members of the House as well.

OVER 1,000 ATTEND.
American Institute of Homoeopathy Meets at Atlantic City.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 25.—Prominent homoeopathic physicians from other cities addressed congregations in churches here last night preliminary to the opening of the seventeenth annual meeting of the American Institute of Homoeopathy. More than 1,000 physicians are here to attend the sessions of the institute. The business session of the convention will begin today, with a preliminary address by the president, Dr. David G. Wilcox of Boston.

SEVERAL NARROW ESCAPES.
A Number of Buildings Burned on Long Island, Maine.

PORTLAND, Maine, June 25.—The fire which early today swept a portion of the waterfront on Long Island, a summer resort in Casco Bay, was confined to the Granite Spring Hotel, the grocery store of Clark & Griffin, Dan's Spa, a small store and barber shop, and three cottages, with an aggregate loss estimated at $50,000. Five cottages belonging to the estate of Ernesto Ponce, who built and for many years owned the hotel, and situated just east of the hotel, were not burned as first reported.

There were a number of narrow escapes of people aroused by the fire and the alarm and they were forced to seek places of safety, but no casualties were reported.

HESITATION WALTZ
Next Competition at the Beach
Promises to be of Great Interest.

The success which the recent one-step prize contest met last Thursday has prompted the beach officials to stage a prize hesitation waltz contest next Thursday. Judging from the entries received to date, and others who have promised to compete, this is bound to prove even more interesting.
As in the former contest, the judges will consider all steps, but the merest of the contestants keep to the straight ordinary movements and the smothered they execute them, the more favor they will receive in the final decision. In other words, simple, plain hesitation steps, without dips, and gymnastic performances, will win. The hesitation step will count under this waltz heading, but the judges desire competing couples to change into the hesitation steps besides, and not use the same duck throughout.
Mr. Ford and Miss Sims, who will dance a waltz night until Thursday, invite spectators from the audience at the conclusion of their dance and will demonstrate any of the new steps they do. They will call for volunteers and this gives a good opportunity for any person desiring to learn any of the new steps quickly.

(Most of the trivial gains of the opening were lost before the end of the first hour. The measure of the market's activity in that period may be taken from the fact that only about 20,000 shares changed hands and the second hour was even more apathetic. Indeed, up to noon, quite a number of serious opposition to the Rock Island reorganization plan accounted for the heaviness of these issues. Traders found no inducement to operate, their chagrin becoming more pronounced over the continued delay in the eastern freight rate decision. Bonds were steady. Call money, steady, at 1 1/2. OVER FIVE HUNDRED EXPECTED.

Long Anticipated Outing Expected to Materialize Tuesday According to Program.

Officials of the Worcester Chamber of Commerce, who were in town Sunday, completing details for the visit here of leading business and professional men of that bustling city Tuesday, reported that returns had been made on the sale of 400 tickets. This gives them assurance that not only will the original number be reached but more than 500 are now expected to come. The committee of the local Board of Trade has been promised the use of 92 automobiles for Newport's part of the entertainment, but more are needed and Secretary Commodore reports a number of additional owners will volunteer the use of their cars tonight or early in the morning.

The party will leave Providence on steamer Warwick at 9 o'clock and will be due here a little after 11. The original plan was to take trolley cars to the beach, but the visitors are deterred from showing Newport people business interest in the city. They will be met at the beach by a special train, provided the weather is favorable. A band will be brought on the trip, and headed by this and escorted by the local committee the parade will be from Commercial wharf up Thames street to Washington square, Tenth street, Bellevue avenue and back round.

The new Chamber of Commerce banner, of which the organization is very proud, will be carried and in line will also be the famous committee, 40 in number, who a year ago boomed the membership of the organization. The committee will appear in special uniforms. The whole outfit will be heard from as soon as they strike the city, and there seems no reason why the outing to which the Worcester people have been looking forward with such anticipation will not be carried out according to program.

Upon arrival at the beach a special dinner will be served, at 2:45 they will take the automobiles for the ride about the city, at 4 o'clock there will be a drill at the Training Station and at 5 they will embark on their special steamer for the return trip.

THREE FUNERALS.

Services for John W. Boardley, Frederick Hummel and Corporal Taylor.

John W. Boardley, who died at Narragansett Pier, was buried here Saturday afternoon with Grand Army honors. The funeral took place from the residence of his sister, Mrs. Joseph T. Ray, on Kingston avenue, to the Mt. Zion African Methodist Episcopal Church where the service was in charge of Rev. Charles N. Gibbs, assisted by Rev. Henry N. Jeter, D. D., and Rev. T. W. Cook. The Grand Army funeral was conducted by Senior Vice Commander William S. Stearns, Chaplain John T. Delano and Adjutant Charles H. Clarke of Lawton-Warrenton Post. The interment was in the Old cemetery.

The funeral of Frederick Hummel took place from his late residence on Hope street Sunday afternoon. Rev. C. J. Stearns officiating. John's Lodge of Masons, Worshipful Master Charles E. Barsley, conducted the Masonic ritual at the grave in the Braham cemetery. The bearers were John T. Allan, John D. Braham, George H. Kirby, Joseph Gibson, George E. Houghton and Charles H. Gesteeling, members of the Masonic fraternity.

The body of Corporal Charles C. Taylor of the One Hundred and Ninth Company, coast artillery corps, who died at Fort Greble last week, was taken Saturday night to the home of his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Scott, at Camden, N. J., after a military funeral at Fort Greble. Corporal McIntyre of the One Hundred and Ninth company had charge of the body.

RIGHTS ALONG THE CLIFF WALK.

Those of the Public and Property Owners Matter for Settlement in Courts.

Mrs. Riddle Willing to Do Her Part if City Repairs Broken Sea Wall at "Rhuddlans."

To the Editor of the Daily News:
I wish to thank the writer of the article, "On the Cliff Walk," which appears in the Daily News of June 26, for calling attention to the condition of the Cliff Walk, and placing the responsibility of its maintenance where it properly belongs; namely, on the city of Newport. I have been informed that the highest legal authority that the question as to the right of the public to use the Cliff Walk is the subject of a lawsuit now pending in the courts. It has been assumed that the public have the right of passage along the shore for the purpose of fishing. This privilege has been encroached upon until now it is assumed that the Cliff Walk is in effect a public highway.

The question as to whether it is or is not a public highway may as well be settled now as later. If it is a public highway, the city should be responsible for its safety and its maintenance. The street commissioner or park commissioner should be instructed as to their responsibility for the safety of the walk for life and limb, and the police should provide protection to the innocent public from scenes that may be witnessed at night along its course. If, on the other hand, it is the property of the city collector that the Cliff Walk is not a public highway for which the city is responsible, and that the public only have a right of passage along the shore, I shall be very glad to remove that portion of board walk and stairway from my property and let the public find its way along the shore as best it may.

Five years ago I desired to have constructed a cement walk along the shore front of my property. Verbal estimates were given me by a reliable contractor and the work was begun. When about half of the walk had been completed the contractor presented his bill for so much as he had finished. His charge for this first half amounted to more than twice his estimate for constructing the entire walk. It was impossible to pay, and he has been impossible since that time, for me to complete that cement walk.

To one taking the Cliff Walk it will readily appear that some of the wealthy property owners have arranged the walk along the sea wall to their homes may be protected as well as their own property. Where there are extensive grounds this can readily be managed, but on the small plot at "Rhuddlans" with its four cottages, such an arrangement is not possible. Surely no one expects me to provide a passage for the public through the center of my grounds, and between my cottages. Surely no one expects me to remove one or two of my cottages from where they have stood for nearly half a century, to make a more commodious walk for the patrons of Boston's beach, from which the city receives considerable revenue.

As to the responsibility for repairs to the broken sea wall, it would appear evident to any one that this lies with the city and that the precedent established by the city in maintaining a sea wall around such portions of the Ocean Drive have been neglected by the local property owners establishes the responsibility for the repair of that portion of the sea wall to which attention has been called by the writer of the article referred to above. If the sea wall in front of "Rhuddlans" were rebuilt, it would be a simple matter to provide a safe walk.

Personally I would be very glad to have the mayor of Newport, the Board of Aldermen, the street commissioner, the city solicitor, the members of the Representative Council and the police commissioners take the matter under consideration and if possible settle once for all the question between the rights of the public and the rights of the property owners along the Cliff Walk.

Emily C. Riddle.

SUSTAINED SLIGHT SHOCK.

Mr. James P. Taylor Returns to Newport and May be Out Soon.

Later information in regard to the illness of Mr. James P. Taylor is to the effect that he sustained a slight shock while in New York. His friends in the establishment of the Rogers Hotel, taking him to his hotel, calling a physician and remaining with him as long as they could be of service. Mr. Taylor insisted upon returning to Newport, and the doctor consented only on condition that he (the physician) should accompany him.

Mr. Taylor is confined to bed at his room, in charge of a nurse, but suffers no inconvenience. It is expected that he will be able to resume his usual duties after a comparatively short time of rest.

MARRIED AT JAMESTOWN.

Announcement was made at Jamestown Saturday afternoon by Commodore John H. Craven, U. S. N. (retired), and Mrs. Craven of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Craven, to Ensign Robert Scott Wyman, U. S. N., at St. Matthew's Church, Jamestown. June 13 Mrs. Craven says the engagement of her daughter had been made known in December, but the couple had not expected to be married until the autumn. Recently, however, Ensign Wyman received orders to report for duty on board the Virginia in Annapolis, within 10 days, and he and Miss Craven abandoned their intention of a formal wedding and decided to be married at once. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles W. Wood.

Only members of the family were present, including Commodore and Mrs. Craven, Mrs. Craven's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Barnard, of Rochester, N. Y.; Mrs. Wyman, mother of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Wilson of Pittsfield, Mass.; his brother, Ensign and sister, Mr. Louis Wyman, his brother, who was best man, and Ensign Francis S. Craven, a brother of the bride.

EVER FRESH AND WELCOME.

"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" Expected to Draw Many Children.

When the Malley-Denison Stock Company begins the week at the Opera House with the stage of the "Cabbage Patch" the management promises to give it in a manner which will surpass any of its former presentations in this city. The play has been called a phenomenal international success, having played the largest runs in both Europe and Australia, and an American production, like "The Old Homestead" and "Way Down East" is ever fresh and welcome, and bids fair to continue for many years as one of the big drawing cards of the American stage.

A VARIED TRIP.

Accident to the Pontiac Sends Belcher-Loomis Party Back by Trolley.

The Belcher-Loomis outing party, which came to the beach Saturday afternoon, had its trip unexpectedly varied. They came down the bay on steamer Pontiac, and under tow from Sandy Point, where her propeller blades were broken and she signalled the Seven Brothers for assistance. The return trip was made by the Providence Short Line, special cars being provided, leaving at 1:30 thus trolley, ferry and steam trolley took the place of the intended ball up the bay. The Pontiac remained here and will be hauled out at the shipyard Tuesday if ferryman J. A. Saunders is then launched. A new wheel will be fitted at the yard and then the steamer will be prepared to continue her summer engagements. The south ways at the shipyard are occupied by schooner yacht Princess.

SEAMEN GUNNERS VICTORS.

Defeat of Glenwoods and Aquidnecks Increases Sailors' Lead in City League.

Training Station Team Takes Torpedo Station Nine in Tow With a 10 to 8 Score.

Two victories at Wellington park Saturday afternoon increased the Seamen Gunners' lead in the City League until they are a full game ahead of the "Broadways," who are making a hard fight for the cup in both instances the games were close, especially that against the Aquidnecks, when the Seamen Gunners were forced to use their three best pitchers in order to win a 10-inning victory. The first game, against the Glenwoods, found the Seamen victors by a 5-1 score, the Aquidnecks playing better ball than the Glenwoods.

For seven innings in the first game the Glenwoods made a hard battle, and although Burns, the best of the navy pitchers, was sent in to subdue them after the fifth, they did well behind Hamilton, who made a good start struck out five, besides holding the heavy hitting aggregation to seven hits, three of which were singles. Kinnard and Burns pitched good ball for the winners, Kinnard fanning seven men.

The Glenwoods began well in the opening inning. Kirwin walked, stole second and went to third on McNally's tap to Neuholt. Shea hit to latter's throw Kirwin dropped the ball shot a corking double to centre, on which Shea could have scored had he been a trifle faster. In their half Offor opened with a three-base blow, fanned when Hamilton's dancing fame let one of Hamilton's, inshoots go by him.

After McNally had grounded out in the third inning Neuholt singled, going to second on a passed ball. Neuholt started for third, and failed to get there. The score remained 2-1 until the seventh inning, when Burns and Offor reached second after a single, and Burns fumbled his grounder, and Offor was safe on Hamilton's error. Emig going to third. Offor stole second, and McNally's long single to right centre, on Neuholt's error, came in with the last run on Shea's error.

The Aquidnecks had an excellent chance to win the second game, which they dropped in 10 innings by a 7-4 score. They lost their golden opportunity in the eighth inning, after some reckless base running, and further aided in their own defeat by critical errors by Dring at second in the final inning. With two men out Dring dropped a throw for a force-out, and after that the three runs came across which gave the sailors their second victory.

Cremitt twirled a nice game for the Aquidnecks, and with support should have won. Six errors behind him, while the Seamen Gunners made but one misplay behind Kinnard and Burns tells the story although Kinnard pitched excellent ball, striking out 10 in six innings he was on the mound. Splinger endeavored to twirl for the Seamen Gunners in the second game but lasted only one inning, his curves being hammered all over the lot for three runs, which the Aquidnecks held as a lead for some time.

Cremitt twirled excellent ball in the opening inning, when he struck out Offor, McNally and Neuholt in succession. Kenney opened the Aquidnecks rally with a walk, after which Connolly made the first of his three hits. Butler's slashing two-bagger scored both Kenney and Connolly, and Kenney's third on a fielder's choice. The hit and run play was worked admirably when Deniston hit to Wally while Butler was springing home. Sullivan then doubled, but was left stranded when Dring and Shea fled out.

An error and Wally's two-base hit in the third enabled the Seamen Gunners to tie the score. Kinnard, Farland and Ramsay tallied. The sailors went ahead in the eighth, when Neuholt beat out a punt, stole second and scored on Farland's second hit. The Aquidnecks tied in their half, however, and should have won the game. Burns, who was pitching for the Seamen Gunners, was hit freely. Kenney opened with a single and Connolly singled, but Kenney was put out at third, trying to take the two bases on the hit. Butler then singled, scoring Connolly. But-
